U.S. Transport Carrying 49 Breaks in Two

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Nov. 25.—(CP) — Three survivors of the United States Army transport Clarksdale Victory, wrecked on a reef off Graham Island, were sighted on the beach by the crew of a coast guard plane today.

THE TRANSPORT carried a crew of 49, and the fate of the other members was not known immediately.

The latest report to the coastguard said the 10,000-ton ship had broken in two on the treacherous reef.

Earlier, the coastguard received a report from the SS. Denali of the Alaska Steamship Company, reporting that the fore part of the vessel was visible and that the rest was broken up or submerged.

The master of the Denali reported: "It is impossible to land in lifeboat. Breakers are 90 feet high outside the wreckage.

"WE ARE THINKING of getting party to row around island to see if any survivors. Will let you

Rail Strike Hits France

PARIS, Nov. 25.—(AP) — A general strike of French railway men was called tonight by the National Federation of Railroad Workers.

THE COUNCIL of the federation, affiliated with the Communist-led general confederation of Labor, issued the call as the new Centrist government wrestled with France's critical labor situation.

Informants close to the French government hinted Premier Robert Schuman might order conscription of workers in key jobs as one means of fighting the wave of Communist-led strikes now threatening France's whole economy.

These informants said Schuman might make one last offer of increased wages before cracking down on the strikers, now estimated at more than 1,000,000.

THE MAILS and most railway lines were engulfed in the creeping paralysis that spread from the docks of Marseilles during what there two weeks ago. Most French

'Peg Sex Slayer To Hang Feb. 18

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP) — Michael Angelo Vescio of Port Arthur was convicted today of murder in the shooting of 13-year-old George Robert Smith of Winnipeg, and was sentenced by Chief Justice E. K. Williams to be hanged Feb. 18, 1948. The assize court jury returned the verdict after 35 minutes' deliberation.

The 22-year-old Vescio took the sentence calmly.

At the request of Crown Counsel O. M. M. Kay, a second charge of murder— that of Roy McGregor, also 13—was transferred to the next assizes, scheduled for February.

William Smith, father of the boy whose murder aroused the city, was among those in the room as Chief Justice Williams pronounced sentence.

Nine Meet Death In Theatre Fire

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Nine members of the staff of the Gaiety theatre died in a flash fire which gutted the building yesterday as horrified onlookers in the street watched their death struggles through jammed glass doors.

The death toll was raised from eight to nine when firemen broke through the smoking ruins to recover the bodies. Only theatre employes were present when an unexplained blast ripped through the building.

The fire followed a blast which jammed the heavy glass doors on one side. Only a week before an alternative exit on the other side of the building had been walled up while building operations were in progress.

Charges Pakistan Organized Raids

NEW DELHI, Nov. 25.—(Reuters)—Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of the Dominion of India, today accused officials of the Pakistan government of deliberately organizing recent raids by frontier tribesmen into the state of Kashmir, which guards the northwest approaches to India.

"It is impossible to escape the conclusion that the raids were carefully planned and well-organized by the Pakistan authorities with the deliberate object of seizing the state by force and then declaring its accession to Pakistan," he told the constituent assembly.

This was an act of hostility not only to Kashmir but to the Indian Union.

Curiosity Kills the Cat

YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 25.—(AP)—A helicopter and a rope combined with a coyote's curiosity yesterday to bring about the demise of the 30-pound animal.

Tommy Hall and Jacques Filliol, both of Yakima, said they spotted the animal as they flew along a hill south of here. They gave chase, hovered over the animal and dropped a rope.

When the animal bit into the rope, they two men lifted the helicopter to 100 feet. The coyote held on, then lost his hold and plummeted to the ground.

Hall and Filliol landed nearby, picked up the dead animal and flew home to collect the game department bounty.

Assailant Takes Own Life

Pensions Examiner Shot Dead by Veteran

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Dr. Murray R. Bowie, 37, pensions examiner, was shot to death today in the Canadian pensions commission offices here by a disgruntled First World War veteran who then killed himself with a bullet through the heart.

VETERANS department officials identified the veteran as Henry Page, 59, who came to Ottawa from Vancouver two months ago.

Both the doctor and his assailant died instantly in Dr. Bowie's little fourth-floor office in the uptown Aylmer building, at Slater and Elgin streets and just off the capital's main business district.

Page, whose wife is believed to live in Toronto, apparently had brooded over a notification received yesterday of a reduction of $20 a month in his first war pension.

Say Soviet Has Huge Gold Hoard To Combat Marshall Relief Plan

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Soviet Union has a huge hoard of gold to combat the Marshall plan, economist Charles Prince writes in the December issue of the United Nations World.

Prince, former specialist on Soviet economic problems for the United States Chamber of Commerce, predicts in the magazine, an unofficial publication, that "it is probable by 1967 the Soviet Union's gold reserve will equal or surpass that of the U.S."

"Exactly how big the Soviet gold hoard is, nobody outside the Soviet Union knows. Beyond the statement that it is the world's second largest gold reserve, official sources in Washington, New York, London, Paris and Zurich are unwilling to go.

"The best informed opinion is that it is certainly worth more than $3,000,000,000, and probably not more than $17,-

Prince says that behind a screen of intense secrecy gold production in the Soviet Union has increased rapidly.

"In 1926, the Soviet Union ranked 15th among the gold-producing countries of the world. In 1936, she moved up to second place, and in 1940 claimed to occupy first place.

"If, as the Russians insist, they have surpassed the gold production of the Tranavaal, they would be producing today well in excess of 10,000,000 ounces a year, or more than $350,000,000. This compares with current U.S. production of 6,003,000 ounces and the Canadian output of 3,311,000 ounces in 1946. . . ."

Bridge Types To Be Included In New Survey

City council Monday night instructed the city commissioners to employ a person or firm of traffic and bridge engineers to study cross-river traffic requirements in Edmonton, and to report to council on a policy of adequate bridges and the type of bridge to be constructed.

THIS DECISION was reached following discussions on a communication from the "Crossroads Club of Edmonton" demanding that the city suspend any plans for a new two-lane span to adjoin the present low level bridge until a complete study of cross-river and cross-town traffic can be made. The communication was signed by the Alberta Association of Architects; Kinsmen Club of Edmonton, and The Crossroads Club.

Aldermen, however, refused to suspend action on the proposed two-lane span in addition to the low level bridge, the footings of

Partition Approved

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 25.—(CP) — The United Nations Palestine Committee today approved the plan for partition of the Holy Land by a vote of 25 to 13. There were 17 abstentions and two absentees.

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 25. — (CP) — In face of Arab threats of a bloody racial war in Palestine, the United Nations Palestine committee today will adopt the Holy Land partition plan.

EVEN BEFORE the vote is cast, it is taken for granted that the scheme will win acceptance in the 57-member committee.

But there is wide division of opinion and considerable pessimism that the scheme for partitioning Palestine into Jewish and Arab states will obtain the necessary two-thirds majority when it passes on from the committee to the general assembly for final action.

THE CANADIAN delegation, which supports partition, said, however there was an "even chance" of it gaining this two-thirds support in the assembly.

The committee late last night disposed of the opposing Arab proposal for the creation of an independent Arab state in Palestine.

It also voted down another Arab proposal to ask the international court of justice to give a decision on the competency of the UN to implement a Palestine settlement.

Meyers Faces Court Martial

Money Dealings of General During War Now Exploding Like Delayed-Action Bomb

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The United States justice department carried the case of Maj.-Gen Bennett E. Meyers to a federal grand jury today as the wartime money dealings of the retired air force officer began to explode like a chain of delayed-action bombs.

Shaken from top to bottom By the charges against its one-time deputy purchasing chief, the two-months-old independent air force stripped the 52-year-old Meyers of his $549 monthly pension, took away the Distinguished Service Medal and Legion of Merit awarded after his retirement, and announced that he will face a court martial.

W. Stuart Symington, secretary of the air force, described as "one of the most shocking scandals ever exposed in the history of our government" the testimony before a Senate war investigating sub-committee that Meyers took $150,000 in profits out of a Dayton, O., aircraft parts factory while others in military aviation concentrated on winning the war.

Mrs. Mildred Lamarre has threatened a slander suit against Meyers, who swore to Senate investigators that a clandestine affair with her inspired him to set up the Dayton firm with her husband as president. "All lies," Mrs. Lamarre declared at Dayton.

"I am as sure there are no other officers of the high rank of Meyers involved," Symington said, "as I am sure the sun will rise tomorrow."

Traffic Toll Mounts

City Youngster, 7, Is Killed By Truck

A seven-year-old boy, killed about 5:20 p.m. Monday, brings Edmonton's total in traffic fatalities to 10 for the year and two within the last three days.

KILLED MONDAY was Ernest Hyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hyman, 9742 97A street. On Sunday afternoon 37-year-old Sgt. Allen Bray, 12902 117 street, died as a result of being struck by a street car Saturday night.

According to city police the Hyman youngster was killed when he attempted to dash across 98 avenue between 96 and 99 streets in front of a truck. Police said the vehicle, a three quarter ton truck, was driven by Theodore Aslin, Condell block.

Aslin told police he was travelling west on 98 avenue at a slow rate of speed. He said he saw nothing until the boy dashed out in front of his truck from the north curb. He added that he had no chance to swerve nor apply his brakes before striking the youngster.

Canon Continues Fight for Life

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Canon John H. Turner continued today his fight toward recovery despite a doctors' report that the Arctic missionary was "very seriously ill."

The report also showed the canon had developed a meningitis infection through the nose as a result of an accidental bullet wound in his head, suffered last September at his isolated mission post 400 miles within the Arctic Circle and 1,700 miles north of Winnipeg.

The surgeon attending Canon Turner said that Capt Ross Willoughby, army paratroop doctor who treated the canon for seven weeks before he was brought to Winnipeg Saturday, earlier diagnosed the possibility of the presence of meningitis and had taken steps to prevent it with sulpha drugs and penicillin.

"It is amazing he has lasted as long as he has," said Dr. S. Waugh of Winnipeg, following the canon's arrival in hospital here.

Papers Publish Despite Strike

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—(AP)—More than 1,500 printers employed by Chicago's six daily newspapers were on strike today but spokesmen for the newspapers said publication would continue uninterrupted.

The three afternoon dailies—the Daily News, the Herald-American and the Times—planned to have near-normal editions on the streets at the regular time.

Alleged Murderer Of Wife Charged

CALGARY, Nov. 25. — (CP) — Lloyd William Smith, 28, stood with expressionless face in police court here this morning, and listened without any visible emotion as Magistrate G. H. Rose read out to him the charge that he had murdered his wife, Pauline, in their bed-sitting room at 305 3rd St. W., early Sunday morning.

Crown Counsel M. H. Staples, KC, immediately asked for a remand until Dec. 3, for preliminary hearing. As is customary no plea was taken.

Smith walked in the dock steadily, and sat down, at the end of the long bench without being told. He was ordered by Sgt. At Arms Ian Macrae to move to the centre of the dock in front of the magistrate. He complied, indifferently.

Ordered to rise while the charge was read, he stood easily foot apart, with his hands clasped loosely in front of him. He was dressed in a blue-brown sportshirt, worn with the tail outside the trousers.

He showed little sign of the fatigue which was evident when he was brought into city cells at 2:30 a.m. today.

Smith was arrested at Banff by RCMP Monday night.

waterfronts, shipping combines, the Paris schools, flour mills, building trades and heavy industries such as chemicals, metals and machinery, were tied up.

Most of the strikers were campaigning under a slogan first raised by the Communists—25 per cent more pay to meet soaring costs of living. Informants close to the government said there appeared to be general acceptance of the fact that wages no longer can be held to their present controlled levels.

SCHUMAN WAS expected to see a committee from the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor tomorrow in the hope of reaching some settlement before taking its cabinet before the national assembly for approval, perhaps Thursday.

Well-informed sources said he might make a last offer to meet labor demands for raising the blanket minimum wage from 7,000 to 10,000 francs ($38 to $90) a month if the strikes were called off, but would refuse other increases requested.

Official Shot

ed into Dr. Bowie's office at 9:35 this morning and asked:

"Are you Dr. Bowie?"

"Yes," replied the doctor, and Page whipped out a pistol and opened fire.

Dr. Bowie slumped over his desk and on to the floor with two bullets in his chest.

Page then swung the smoking pistol around and shot himself through the heart.

Col. W. B. Megloughlin, Ottawa district pensions administrator, said Page had a periodic medical examination a month ago before Dr. Bowie who found that an arthritic condition from which he suffered chronically had improved.

The commission then reduced Page's pension, advising him by letter dated Friday and apparently received yesterday at the Metcalf street rooming house where he lived alone.

THE LETTER made no mention of Dr. Bowie's diagnosis but Page presumably was notified that he had been the examining physician and went directly to his office this morning.

The pistol was believed a .38 calibre revolver.

Dr. Bowie was born at Essex, Ont., in 1910 and was graduated in medicine from Queen's University at Kingston, Ont. He enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps in 1941 and served overseas with the rank of captain.

He was appointed to the pensions commission upon his discharge in 1945 and his appointment was made permanent only a week ago.

He is survived by his wife and a three-year-old son, Douglas.

PAGE, WHO SERVED overseas in the First World War as a private in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, came to Ottawa from Vancouver, where he lived at 1659 Davie Street.

Veterans officials said he first came to them late in September seeking assistance in obtaining work.

The report of one officer who had sought to place him said Page "wanted to be a salesman" who was too old for that type of work. He had experience as an electrical repair man and attempts were made to place him in that field. He was sent to a number of prospective employers but "could not sell himself."

Finally, rehabilitation officers found him a $20-a-week job with a departmental store and reported he "seemed quite satisfied."

PAGE'S RECENT medical examinations it was stressed, was routine, as provided in the pensions act, and Dr. Bowie made no recommendation as to his pension, merely reporting that the arthritic condition which carried with it a 40-per-cent disability had improved. The department reduced the disability to 20 per cent.

Page also had a 20-per-cent disability for gunshot wounds suffered in the chest and shoulder in the First World War.

THE BOY is reported to have left the north curb to go to the south side of the avenue between the intersections. He was about 10 feet from the curb when struck. The wheels did not pass over the boy but he was knocked clear.

Smith's ambulance was called and the youngster taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital. He also pronounced dead on arrival at hospital. Initial investigation immediately following the accident was carried out by Constable H. M. Thomlinson.

Ernest Hyman is the fourth child to be killed as a result of a traffic accident this year, and is the eighth pedestrian.

Hainstock and Son are in charge of the funeral.

Big Four

write a peace treaty for Austria and unify Germany.

The conference opened against a background of spreading strikes and unrest in France and uprisings in Italy while western diplomats characterized as a Russian-backed campaign to embarrass Bidault and discourage western European cooperation with the Marshall recovery plan.

A BRITISH INFORMANT said Bevin and Molotov had a "very friendly" meeting last night and agreed that unanimity is of "the very highest importance" to the future of the world. Bevin also saw Marshall. Bevin was said by the informant to have adopted a line "more moderate" than that of Marshall.

The first problem for the conference was agreement on a program of work. Marshall and Bevin preferred to give priority to Austria. Russian negotiators, in preliminary planning, opposed this.

Both Marshall and Bevin were represented as entering the meeting with a "let's-get-down-to-business" attitude.

Hundreds of onlookers had gathered along the street when Molotov arrived. He was the first of the four to appear. Marshall drove up last.

MOLOTOV WAS cheered roundly. He hastened into Lancaster House without paying any attention to the crowd.

Bidault got little notice when he drove up directly behind Molotov. The crowd apparently did not recognize him.

Bevin, presiding officer for the opening session, was cheered when he arrived next. Marshall, last of all, received a loud shout. The general raised his hat to the crowd and smiled.

Bevin earlier in the evening told the British cabinet of the line he proposed to pursue, and the informant said Prime Minister Attlee and the other ministers gave their approval.

THE FOUR FOREIGN ministers were ready to take up where they left off in Moscow last April, when they failed to reach agreement on peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Stalemated then, their differences have been whetted by incessant Soviet propaganda attacks on the United States and Britain and by a wide-open fight over the Marshall plan for European recovery, and are even sharper now than when the Moscow meeting broke up.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France looked to Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov to produce a break—if there is to be one—in the east-west deadlock over Germany's future.

A CHECK OF THE American and British officials in the last hours before the new conference opened brought the information that State Secretary Marshall and Foreign Secretary Bevin had not relaxed in the least their opposition to Russia's economic, political and reparations demands concerning Germany.

Foreign Minister Bidault is in a difficult position due to French government upsets and strikes and unrest throughout his country. Some American officials say they suspect this unrest results from Soviet-inspired Communist efforts to embarrass Bidault here and at the same time discourage French participation in the Marshall economic program.

The Tribune, in a statement on the strike in today's final edition after the composing room employes quit work, said it intended to publish daily and Sunday and "the other Chicago newspapers likewise intend to continue publication."

JOHN L. PILCH, ITU local 16 president, said in a statement that "the issue is one of wages only."

The publishers in a statement said wages were not the issue, and that the only issue was "the union's no-contract policy."

The publishers had issued a statement rejecting a wage increase demand of the printers without settlement of other issues.

"We cannot recognize a mandated wage scale," the publishers' statement said.

"We have at all times been ready to negotiate a wage increase, if the union would agree to put the wage scale and other terms of employment in a lawful contract of reasonable duration."

miles and extending northwards to the mighty Karkakoram mountains, has a population of more than 4,000,000. After tribesmen crossed the frontier a few weeks ago, troops of the Indian Union were sent by air to check their advance to Srinagar, the state capital.

"I am completely convinced that every action the government of India has taken with regard to Kashmir has been straight and above-board and I can defend it at any time before the world," Nehru said.

The Pakistan government had proposed the simultaneous withdrawal of Indian forces and the raiders from Kashmir. This was a strange proposal and could only mean that the raiders were there at the instance of the Pakistan government.

"We cannot treat with freebooters who have murdered large numbers of people and tried to ruin Kashmir," Nehru said. "They are not a state although a state may be behind them.

"We have sufficient evidence in possession to demonstrate that the whole business of the Kashmir raids, both in Jammu province and in Kashmir proper, was deliberately organized by high officials of the Pakistan government . . ."

which will be constructed during the low water period this winter.

Mayor Harry Ainlay said that the question of the addition to the low level bridge had been submitted to the best engineering brains of Canada, and the project approved. He said if aldermen were going to listen to every suggestion made concerning construction of bridges, their types, etc., no bridges would be built at all, to relieve the traffic congestion that now exists.

Ald. Fred J. Mitchell expressed the opinion that the low level addition was a vital necessity to the continued expansion of the street railway conversion from which streetcars to trolley bus operation. Delay in construction of this bridge addition will delay the conversion plan, he stated.

ALD. SIDNEY BOWCOTT said the general public did not favor the proposed addition to the low level bridge, and was of the opinion that further consideration should be given to the matter.

A request from the Kinsmen Club that consideration be given to increasing the seating capacity of any proposed civic auditorium to 5,000 was received as information. The club felt that any accommodation below this figure was entirely inadequate for the City of Edmonton's requirements.

The Edmonton Safety Council, which has been carrying on a safety first campaign throughout the summer, sought a variation of stipulations in a council resolution under which the Safety Council can become entitled to a grant from the city.

THE SAFETY COUNCIL asks for an amendment to provide that the city agree to contribute one dollar for each two dollars raised by the organization from other sources. Originally council stipulated the Safety Council raise $10,000 before becoming eligible for any part of a $5,000 grant from the city.

The Safety Council also asks that council delete the condition requiring sustaining members of the Safety Council to agree to continue their contributions for a period of at least five years.

The Safety Council submitted an accident comparison report covering the period from July 1 when the council's courtesy campaign started disclosed that total of accidents was reduced 13½ per cent over the same period of 1946, and total injuries declined 32 per cent, and pedestrian injuries dropped 68 per cent.

ACCIDENTS IN 1947 prior to the campaign had increased 31½ per cent over the same period of 1946. The reduced accident rate was achieved while motor car registrations were increasing five per cent.

The Safety Council proposed to deal with the "extremely hazardous behaviour" of Edmonton cyclists, and was prepared to "reflectorize" any bicycle at cost. This service was made available in an attempt to interest city boys and girls in bicycle safety.

Council decided to make a grant of $1,000 to the Safety Council to carry on its program, and referred the communication to the finance committee for study and report.

Names 18 Douks As Arsonists

NELSON, B.C., Nov. 25.—(CP)—Eighteen of 25 Doukhobors on trial for "riotously and tumultuously" destroying a building by force yesterday heard themselves identified by George Fofinoff of Shoreacres, B.C., as having been in a group which destroyed the home of his neighbor.

The "fire-raid" was one of a series that terrorized the West Kootenay area of British Columbia last August, when thousands of dollars of damage was caused in feuding between the Radical Sons of Freedom sect and the Orthodox Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ.

Fofinoff, describing the destruction of William Kalmakoff's home last Aug. 23 at Shoreacres, told Mr. Justice H. S. Wood of the Supreme Court of British Columbia:

"The fanatics moved down the road and over a barricade in front of the house, fighting with the guards to get past. When I got there I tried to help and just as I went forward William Kalmakoff shouted for me to get out of his way."

Kalmikoff is one of those on trial.

Fofinoff said that the "people inside tried to resist them, but they were unable to succeed."

When he heard a woman scream "fire" and saw the wall of a wooden structure on the main building burning, "I rushed to get a pail of water. I tried to throw the water, but someone grabbed me and it spilled to the ground."

"I saw," he continued, "Fred Samsonoff and John Savinkoff throwing liquid on the wall and Alex Pankoff setting fire to papers and holding it against the wall."

The 18 names given by Fofinoff were W. Kalmakoff, John Popoff, Andrew Soukeroff, Philip Perevereseoff, John Perepelkin, John Savinkoff, Bill Markin, Fred Samsonoff, Alex Pankoff, Mike Ribalkin, Fred Nazaroff, Jim Gretchin, Alex Kootnikoff, Kostia Kholdinin, Nastia Arishenkoff, Polly Makortoff, Bill Makortoff and George Soukeroff.

Edmonton Naval Men Receive Honor Medals

Two former Edmonton naval men whose devotion to duty during the Second Great War won them British Empire Medals, were decorated Monday night at an investiture at HMCS Nonsuch.

THE MEN, LEADING Stores Assistant A. W. C. Williston, of 9933 81 ave., and Stoker 1st Class A. M. Reid, of 11542 83 st., were presented their medals by Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, commanding officer, Pacific Coast.

The admiral left Edmonton for Ottawa following the investiture. He has been here conferring with high army and air force officers.

The BEM went to LSA Williston for his devotion to duty in Europe, and Stoker 1st Class Reid won his for an inspiring example during service in the Atlantic.

In presenting the awards, Admiral Mainguy told the reserve divisions of Nonsuch—drawn up in ceremonial order—of the service they are making to Canada as civilian-sailors.

THE ADMIRAL was "piped" aboard by the band of HMCS Nonsuch, and met by the ship's commanding officer, Cmdr. Rodney Pike, RCN (R). He was accompanied to the investiture by Air Vice Marshal K. M. Disease Control World Problem

Control of communicable diseases has become a world, rather than a national problem, Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health, who represented Western Canada at the World Health Organization last summer in Geneva, told a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the United Nations Society at a meeting in Edmonton Monday night.

Dr. Bow explained that the present World Health Organization is operating as an interim commission to deal with the problems of epidemic and communicable diseases and with preventive medicine. He told the meeting about the problems which face nations with different climatic conditions.

With no nation in the world more than a few hours removal from any other, problems of disease control have become more vital in the past few years, Dr. Bow pointed out.

The Rev. T. R. Davies, president of the Edmonton Branch, United Nations Society was in the chair. W. Wooton, treasurer of the Edmonton group, was called on for a report on membership and said that the group now had more than 170 members in the city.

Edmonton Archives

Some months ago there was set up in Edmonton an organization known as the Archives and Landmarks Committee whose general purpose was to establish the archives of this city on a basis compatible with the historic importance of the community.

The initial project was to collect all photographs, negatives, paintings, maps, drawings, early newspapers, directories and other documents that would throw light on the history of Edmonton. To this end the committee invited all the people of Edmonton who had such documents in their possession to place them in the care of the committee for cataloguing and safe-keeping.

The response at that time was not particularly encouraging. But the committee is now making a second effort. And Edmonton citizens should not ignore this repeated appeal. There must be literally thousands of such important and interesting documents in Edmonton homes. In the course of time and events these will be forgotten or thrown out and the information they contain may be lost forever.

If, on the other hand, the possessors of these documents entrust them to the Archives Committee in the Civic Block, they will be preserved and put to a useful purpose.

Civic pride is a strange thing and rests upon many foundations. Perhaps no foundation of civic pride is more vital than historical background. And the value of that historical background increases as each new generation succeeds the last.

This, then, is an important project. Edmonton people are invited to consider it so.

The Border-Line Items

Canadians of all classes and occupations are busy trying to assess the impact upon their business interests of the prohibitions and quota restrictions applying to a wide range of goods imported from the United States. And a minority are doubtless gloomily reconciling themselves to having to forego the planned winter holiday in California or Florida.

But the question of widest concern is how these embargoes will affect the cost of living. The "index" of the Bureau of Statistics may be affected little, for most of the banned commodities fall into classification as luxuries and near-luxuries. But there are also quite a number of items which rate as almost-necessities in the commonly accepted standard of living, and any sharp increases in these items would mean a moderate degree of "austerity" to the average family, though not taken into account in the official "index."

The householder, for example, may not feel himself aggrieved because he cannot for the time buy an American-made car, radio or refrigerator; but will think it hard that he is to be limited in his purchases of tropical fruits, and imported textiles and foot-wear.

These are the border-line items where price-control may become necessary, should producers or handlers try to take advantage of the restricted supply by boosting prices. The quotas placed upon such articles are protective in fact, though that is not the purpose. And history shows that when there is "protection" against foreign imports, the protected need to be watched.

If unfair price-boosting is prevented in respect to such classes of goods, the remaining restrictions will cause a minimum of real hardship, and no "austere" measure of inconvenience.

No Chance of Too Much

Sir John Boyd Orr, Scottish farmer, scientist and nutritionist, is retiring from the post of director-general of the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations. He is rated as the highest authority on the world's food supply and outlook, for he has been studying this subject intently for two years with the assistance of the best available investigators and economists in 51 countries, Canada included.

Sir John has a pretty gloomy report to make on the eve of quitting office. If he is correct the world at large is going to get a much clearer idea of what people in England call "austerity"—at least in reference to food. He says "There is no chance for a greater world food production than the people of the world need for good health, as far ahead as one can see."

The 16 countries in western Europe which are to participate in the Marshall plan, Sir John explains, will need 30,000,000 tons of grain each year if they are to get rid of bread rationing and build up their herds of live stock. If they get this grain Europe will have less food per person in 1951 than it had in 1938. And the prospect is that supplies will fall 5,000,000 tons short of this annual need.

In the Far East the situation is "drastically worse." In South East Asia food supplies will have to be doubled to maintain even the present pitifully inadequate diet for the fast-growing population.

This is a grim picture of food scarcity present and to come. But if it is even fairly accurate Canadian agriculture is facing a demand for its products that will remain unprecedented over a term of peacetime years. To say this is not to gloat over the prospect of continued hunger in the distressed areas. Rather it is to admit and emphasize the responsibility which rests upon this great food-producing country. The farmer in Canada is confronted by a duty like that which he faced and met in wartime —to produce to the utmost limit of his resources.

The Iran Hold-Up

With a Russian army standing on the soil of Iran, Premier Ghavam last year signed a dictated agreement to turn over valuable oil concessions to Moscow. But the Iranian parliament last month refused to ratify the deal. Now the Moscow newspapers are accusing Ghavam of "treachery," saying the rejection of the agreement is a "hostile act," and that Iran will have to take "full responsibility" — whatever that may imply.

It may be that Iran would have profited by the development of its oil resources. It may be that the bargain was a fair one. It may be that the parliament was angry and threw out the agreement in spite of material advantages to Iran.

These questions are all aside. The point is that Molotov put a pistol to the head of Ghavam, premier of an independent and sovereign state, and compelled him to sign "or else." If Ghavam, under duress, gave promises which parliament refused to make good, the prime offender against international law and fairness was the thug who staged the hold-up.

Every people in the world who value their freedom and their national rights will draw the same conclusion. They will see in the treatment of Iran what will happen to them if the masters of Russia should covet their property and get in position to demand that they hand over.

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENTS -:- -:- by Webster

Marshall and Europe

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Few realize what so apparently simple a statement as Mr. Marshall's address at Harvard last June accomplished in Europe.

Previously Europe had been slipping fast, less from the machinations of the Communists, less even from economic decay, than from bitter nihilism of spirit. Over all Europe hung the humiliating aftermath of defeat and the disillusion that allied armies in Europe saved more like conquerors than friends.

THOMPSON

Years of German propaganda, too, had done its work. Among a part it may seem, its negative aspects even beat the resistance movement. Goebbels's repeated charges that Europe's self-styled liberators basically were anti-European had taken root and seemed to have confirmation. Europe was becoming anti-Russian, anti-American and even self-disgustedly anti-European in a mood of bitterness.

Into this atmosphere came Mr. Marshall's proposal of aid and his expression of confidence in Europe's capacity to recover as a great, creative community. I have asked some, whom I consider the most perspicacious Europeans, which was more important: the economic offer or the confidence implied? All replied: The confidence. The effect was electrical. Men lifted their bowed eyelids from the ground, whispering, "America believes in us." And they began to believe again in themselves remembering what Europe had been and again might be. It was like a shot of insulin to dispel coma.

NOW, HAD THE European Communists welcomed the first real peace speech since the war, the ranks would have closed and many wounds would have been healed. Not all of Europe's Communists were Europe's enemies at heart. Everywhere they had taken the lead as patriots. But suddenly now, when the first rays shone in, they rose to snap the blinds. They trotted, like sheep, to Moscow, and came back singing a new and ugly song, bringing a program to wreck the prostrate nations struggling to rise. It was perfectly apparent that sooner than mark up a step in Europe's recovery to American diplomacy, they would turn the continent into such a shambles that the Americans would throw up their hands in despair and retreat. Europeans recognized this announced as a fresh policy with a vehement swing to the right.

Meanwhile, from the platform created by the United Nations in America, the American government was assailed by the USSR in a manner unique in history. The Marshall Plan was denounced as a war plot, an imperialist grab. Never have such insults been hurled at the government and citizens of a state by those enjoying the hospitality of that state. Before it the Geneef efforts which ushered ruined relations with France at the dawn of the republic—pales. And, of course, a few Americans from the dregs of the Left Wing slobbered "go on, spit on us again, three cheers!"

BUT THE SECRETARY swallowed his gorge with a self-restraint worthy of our early statesmen under somewhat similar circumstances. He has stood unperturbed.

Tuesday, in Chicago, his answer was sharp but wholly dignified; he did not even slam the door; he counselled restraint in American comment; but he told the cold truth:

"There is no truth whatsoever in these charges, and . . . those who make them are fully aware of this fact."

That is exactly true. For once, at least, the Soviets know they are lying.

THE SOVIET propaganda cannot overcome what Mr. Marshall emphasized: Whatever bad conscience Americans may have because of measures taken contradictory to our principles — and most of them to appease the Soviets—Americans have no bad conscience toward the Soviet Union. No American can be persuaded that we let the Russians down, during the war or in any post-war agreement, or prepared for war by demobilizing, or have been going in for imperialism in sending relief to Europe—including millions of food packages sent and being sent by individual Americans. Or was the seven billion dollars' worth of voluntary relief given to the Soviets during the war also imperialism?

We have purchased a good conscience toward the Soviets with overzealous trust and, alas, with the rights of others. But we have played fair; overfair, many think, but never less than fair.

The Soviets have made their greatest historical mistake. They deliberately have thrown away a priceless asset: American and European good will. They have emerged not as Communists, but as nihilistic wreckers. Therefore, the secretary could afford to be angry, but calm.

Mr. Truman and Prices

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Washington: The Congress of the United States is meeting now to consider two problems: the reconstruction of Europe and the control of dangerous inflation at home. In fact these are indivisible parts of the same problem. Neither can be solved satisfactorily without the solution of the other. The Marshall Plan will not succeed if inflation gets out of hand within the United States, as President Truman fears. Inflation cannot be controlled without careful management of the Marshall Plan.

To meet these twin issues the President has a program on paper so far, but only on paper. He proposes aid to Europe well within the United States capacity to supply it. He proposes to invoke controls over the domestic economy by way of prices and wage ceilings and consumer rationing to be necessary, both to curb price increases and to channel goods into Europe.

AS FOR THE Marshall Plan itself it seems certain now that the Congress will immediately approve temporary relief to Europe in the requested amount of $597 million. The intransigence of the Russian government and the present Communist push in various European countries will doubtless persuade the Congress also to vote a large sum for European reconstruction during the next year though perhaps not the full amounts asked by the President.

The future of the President's price control policy however is more open to doubtful. Clearly, the President himself is only beginning now to emerge from a long period of confusion. For his statement to the Congress Monday was a direct reversal of his position two years ago, a year ago and a month ago. In 1945 he set off a spiral of wage increases to create purchasing power when, as he now knows, the real need was to reduce purchasing power. A year ago he had changed his mind and demanded a continuance of OPA price controls but then rejected a Republican bill which would have given him almost exactly the powers of control which he seeks now. Then a few weeks ago he denounced rationing and similar measures as the attributes of a "police state" however, events have forced him to return to the Republican policy of 1946 a system of limited rationing if necessary of price controls, wage controls and restriction on the expansion of credit.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT has in mind under this policy is obscure and it may well be that he does not know himself yet. Even if he does it is by no means sure that the Congress will grant him the blanket powers he requests. Senator Taft's bitter denunciation of the President's policy suggests that it may be turned down entirely or at least in part by the Republican Congress. Failure of Taft which might follow such a stalemate could have serious consequences.

First, a further rise in U.S. prices which now seem inevitable at least for a time would reduce the value of the Marshall Plan since the purchasing power of every dollar given to Europe would be reduced. The European program, as laid down in the report of the Paris conference is based on the assumption that U.S. prices will not seriously rise. The rise which now seems inevitable would alter all these calculations. By the same process a further price increase in the United States would be damaging to Canada which, despite its new restrictions, must continue to import in high volume from the United States. Like Europe, we are vitally concerned in the U.S. price level and is the issue now before the Congress. Without the "run-away" inflation which Mr. Truman now fears could only be followed in due time by a deflation which would mean some kind of economic collapse in the United States. On this prospect Russia is mainly counting in its present struggle against the free world.

IT IS EVIDENT, therefore, that in considering the domestic price level the Congress is grappling not with a United States problem but with a world problem and with the stuff of power politics in the cold war against Russia.

The immediate prospects are an emasculated Congressional bill which would reject rationing and price control but provide continuing controls over exports and some effort to curb the rising balloon of bank credit; then a continued rise in the price level for some months at least; then perhaps not before the 1948 election a serious attempt by Congress to grapple with prices if they have not levelled off in the interval; and meanwhile, a Marshall Plan which continues the movement of goods into Europe in something like the present volume but with much more selective selection.

In all these calculations, which admittedly are not fully calculable, Canada has one special concern apart from its concern with the world situation at large. Will Marshall Plan dollars be spendable in Canada? The Harriman committee recommends that when European countries receive U.S. dollars they may spend them in such supplying countries as Canada. Mr. Taft says all the dollars must be spent in the United States. The issue thus posed must be settled by the Congress and the result will greatly affect Canada's dollar crisis.

Smiles

The works manager of a certain railway company had a reputation amongst the staff for meanness.

The story was told that his bonnet was oil and waste. He was always driving home the fact that if every employe was careful with oil and cotton waste, pounds would be saved.

One day he was having a few words with a very new driver.

"Tell me," he ordered, "what would you do if you were driving one day and saw an express thundering towards you on the same line?"

The novice thought hard. Then "I'd grab the oilcan. I'd grab the waste — and I'd jump!"

"Paul is the most bashful man I ever married."

"What makes you say such a thing?"

"He took along mistletoe on our honeymoon."

"Who was that you were talking to for a whole hour at the gate?" asked Mr. Simpson.

"That was Mrs. Smith; she hadn't time to come in," replied his wife. "There must be some way to force

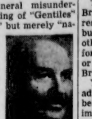
End of an Era

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

You cannot understand the times in which we live unless you face the fact that this is the end of an era.

We live in what the biblical prophets called, over and over again, the end of the "times of the Gentiles."

Contrary to general misunderstanding, the true meaning of "Gentiles" is not "non-Jewish" but merely "nations."



PHILPOTT

It is the nation-state which has outlived its usefulness as an effective governing agency to serve human beings.

It is because we have no law above the level of the individual nations that we have had two world wars; and are now moving toward a third.

Most people already sense that fact. But not so many realize, with equal clarity and certainty, that the attempt of national governments to make their economies work on water-tight compartments is the root cause of the worst of our peace-time troubles.

SUPPOSE THAT ALL North America were one nation.

Does anyone argue that we Canadians would have received orders last week not to travel in the present area of the U.S.A.?

Canada has been compelled to apply drastic measures because we have what is called a "U.S. dollar famine." But suppose there was a "continental dollar," good anywhere from the North Pole to the Panama Canal? Does anyone pretend there would be a "crisis" then?

Some Canadians want to go south this winter. All Canadians around my home want to continue buying fresh vegetables from the U.S. during the season when we can't grow those ourselves.

But our government decrees that we can't buy the stuff in future — although the U.S. has a surplus not salable anywhere else. We can't buy it because the first and last thing that each and every nation in the world does is to set up and cling to its own money system.

So Canadian children are going to go short on the vitamins this winter, which all the medical scientists say we ought to have, because the fathers and mothers of those children are too stupid to work out a new international money system or better still, to wipe out "nationalism" altogether.

TAKE THE CASE of Britain. Suppose that the United States and Britain were to amalgamate and set up one trading area with one money system for the new single super-nation. Britain's worst troubles would be ended in the twinkling of an eye. As there would be but one market for the whole area, goods would freely flow wherever they were needed.

There would be no need for Britain to apply more and more restrictions to prevent people from buying things from the U.S. On the other hand, there would be no need for any more "Marshall Plan" loans or handouts from the U.S.A. to Britain.

You could draw up a list of advantages as long as your arm, benefits which would flow from immediate out-and-out amalgamation of the U.S.A. and Great Britain.

Why, then, don't they go ahead and put it through?

Because of national pride—and just plain, downright laziness—dumbness.

Superficially they say "because Britain would either have to give up her King, or else the U.S.A. would have to rejoin the British Empire."

That, of course, is bunk.

They could work out a federation for the U.S.A. and Britain more easily than we worked out the federation of Canada in 1867, but now we won't do it, so not for a few more years. We will have to have another war, depression, or both, to learn the hard way that the nation-state is all washed up, that the "times of the Gentiles" are as biblical prophets put it, "fulfilled."

THE TECHNOCRATS may be right, and the next step in human history may be the emergence of the continent — rather than the smaller nation — as the organization unit-basis of the various parts of the human family.

The Communists may be right, and much more of the old world may merge into a vaster Soviet Union.

Or Clarence Streit and the other prophets of "federation of the free" democracies may be right, and the union of the U.S., the British Commonwealth and France be "just around the corner." More likely none of the above is all right or all wrong.

What is sure is that the old age of history is dying, and the new is about to be born. We are at the end of one era and the beginning of another. It will be the best that mankind has ever known.

FOOD ENGLAND NEEDS

Editor, Bulletin—Having just returned from three months visit to England, I was perturbed to hear that the present food sent for distribution in Britain to commemorate the Royal wedding is to take the form of tinned fruit and vegetables.

May I point out that I saw no shortage of either fruit or vegetables.

The crying needs in England today are fats, suet, lard, shortening and above all, butter.

Tinned and dried milk are also needed but half a pint between four people was a frequent allowance. It is of little use to send cereals—flour with no milk are not of much use.

AMBULANCE SERVICE

Editor, Bulletin—I have just returned from the scene of an accident which obtained a very good picture of how well this thriving city of some 100,000 souls is equipped to meet an emergency.

I was among the first to arrive at the scene of the accident and we found two women lying in the street, apparently in grave condition. Not knowing the extent of their injuries, we didn't move them but obtained some blankets to cover them with, and I hurried to the nearest phone to call an ambulance. I contacted a well known taxi firm and explained the situation to them. They assured me their ambulance would come immediately. Not knowing whether the ambulance was equipped to handle two patients, I called another well known ambulance service and they would be down to me immediately. There was nothing more to be done except to try to make the unfortunate victims as comfortable as is possible in freezing weather. . . . So we waited . . . and waited, and then we waited some more. Some of the comments passed among the crowd about the quality of service given by such firms were hardly complimentary.

Finally, a full forty minutes later, the ambulance first called arrived and took one of the women away. Less than ten minutes later the same ambulance returned from the hospital and took the other victim. Thus, this ambulance that required forty minutes to make the trip to the hospital from the scene took only ten minutes for a 3 mile round trip. The ambulance belonging to the second firm called never did show up.

It would seem to me that ambulance service belongs under the city utilities more than in the hands of indifferent concerns. These firms to give prompt service the penalty of losing their licenses.

Fortunately, the injuries sustained by the two women were not critical before action is taken to prevent a recurrence of this sort?

CANNOT AFFORD IT

Editor, Bulletin—The news contains much about the shortage of nurses. Only what can be done to relieve the situation. Many girls, who would have made excellent nurses, are not given the chance. They cannot afford the three years it takes without recompense. Only students of well-to-do parents can go in training, it seems. Apart from the equipment necessary at the beginning, such as: uniforms, aprons, caps, bibs, special shoes, there are many items needed through hospital life. Surely the government could free these items for this climate in Canada. Incidentals, such as car fare, often train home, fees for certain examinations, and the whole "time off" takes in the meal hour and entertainment necessary in an active city.

A nurse needs to get away from thoughts of illness and domestic routine at times. A girl in her late teens enjoys a dance or party and needs both afternoon and evening dresses for such recreation. Many other worries she does not wish to live the life of a nun because she chooses to serve humanity as a nurse. I believe there would be more recruits if girls were paid a few dollars each month, while they are in training. They would be more contented.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Deer Naturalists Elect New Officers

RED DEER, Nov. 25.—Election of officers and showing of some nature film slides were features of the annual meeting of the Alberta Natural History Society held recently. Kerry Wood, retiring president, was in the chair and there was a splendid attendance, including a number of new members.

OFFICERS ELECTED for 1947-48 were: honorary president, Kerry Wood; president, Mrs. F. W. Kirsch; vice-president, Hugh Bower; directors, Miss Miss Cole, Mrs. R. W. Maveety, Mrs. William Baines, Miss Margaret Ives, G. N. Finn, Eva Thomson, G. G. Thomson and W. J. Botterill; auditor, G. N. Finn, re-elected. The directors reappointed E. R. The financial statement, presented by the secretary-treasurer, showed a credit balance on hand. Past President Wood, in his report, spoke of the difficulty of arranging programs and felt that a suggestion that fewer meetings be held should be considered.

It was left to the directors to decide when meetings will be held and it is probable that there will be no meeting in December on account of the busy season.

Considerable discussion took place concerning infractions of game laws. Particular mention was made of killing from time to time of beavers in Waskasoo Creek in the city limits; shooting of bush partridge out of season and killing of song birds, in the past year. It was felt that boys with BB guns and .22 rifles should be controlled. A resolution was passed asking the Red Deer City Council to offer a reward for information leading to conviction of anyone killing beaver in Waskasoo Creek.

W. B. Dawe, of the staff of the Central Alberta Composite High School here, showed a large number of film slides on "Migration of Birds." Many of the birds were native to this region and migration routes of a number of them were shown. Kerry Wood, Red Deer's well-known naturalist, gave an interesting commentary on the slides. Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. Wood and Mr. Dawe.

EPSOM, Surrey, England, Nov. 25.—(Reuters)—Conservative, Labor, and Liberal candidates were nominated Monday to contest the parliamentary by-election here Dec. 4, caused by the resignation of Sir Archibald Southby, Conservative member since 1923. The seat is generally regarded as safe for the Conservatives. The candidates are: Malcolm McCorquodale, Conservative, former parliamentary secretary to the ministry of labor; Richard Bishop, Labor; and D. A. Scott Cairns, Liberal.

Find Narcotics

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—(AP) — Four packages of yellowish powder found in the luggage of an airplane passenger who died aloft, turned out to be pure heroin, federal narcotics agents said Monday. Thirty-two ounces of the drug in four half-pound packages would be worth several thousand dollars at retail prices, police said.

Says Miners Won't Accept Wage Cut

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Coal miners on Vancouver Island will not take a wage cut, John Stokaluk, vice-president District 18, United Mine Workers of America, said here yesterday.

En route to Calgary following a meeting at Nanaimo during the week-end, he declared: "We can't accept a wage cut when prices are going up."

The 1,300 Island miners are employed by Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. The present contract ends Nov. 30.

Stokaluk declined to disclose the wage demands submitted to company representatives.

T. F. Matthews Dies

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—(CP)—T. Frank Matthews, 78, member of the Toronto Harbor Commission since 1939 and former vice president of Canadian Packers Ltd., died at his home here Saturday night.

Mosley Plans New "Union Movement"

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(Reuters)—Sir Oswald Mosley, former leader of the British Union of Fascists, probably will announce next week his decision on the formation of a new "union movement" to link Africa and Europe, which he intimated to his supporters in his first post-war public speech a week ago. Since his return to public life, when he said it would take him a fortnight to decide whether or not to form the new political group, Mosley is understood to have discussed the move at secret conferences with his closest colleagues.

Fire on Trucks

TRIESTE, Nov. 25.—(AP)—One man was reported killed and another wounded Saturday as Yugoslav, British and Trieste free state guards fired at two trucks which crashed a frontier post at Basovizza, 10 miles north of here, and fled into Yugoslav territory from the allied zone.

Crerar Expects Showdown Soon

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Within a few years, and perhaps sooner, either is the democratic system of western civilization or the dictatorship regime of Russia will gain definite dominion, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, former chief of staff of the Canadian Army, told the Canadian Club in an address yesterday.

Gen. Crerar recently returned from an official trade mission on behalf of the Canadian government to Japan and China.

"We at present face an international situation in which the democracies, of which the United States is by far the most powerful, are grouped together in clear opposition to the oligarchies, of which Soviet Russia is in definite control," he said. "Now these two systems of government and their respective ideologies are mutually and profoundly incompatible. It is impossible for them to proceed in this world together in a state of easy, international equilibrium."

INSURANCE POLICY PROCEEDS

OCCASIONALLY, men actually put off buying substantial amounts of life insurance because they fear some person other than their families will get possession of the money after they are gone!

✪ It is not necessary to leave $10,000 or $20,000 in cash to your wife or children —particularly when a $100 bill looks like a small fortune to them.

✪ Modern life insurance policies contain "settlement options" which may be selected by you during your lifetime—or chosen by your family after your death . . . If desired, you can choose an option which your family cannot change under any circumstances—except through a legal order!

✪ Instead of placing the full amount in cash into your family's hands—you may:

1. Select a lifetime income for your wife, which she can never outlive. The amount of the income is dependent upon the size of the policy as well as her age at date of your death (the older she is, the larger the income per thousand dollars of insurance); or

2. Arrange to have an income paid for a specific number of years only, with the income varying according to policy amount and period of income; or

3. Have principal amount kept intact, with your wife drawing interest at a guaranteed rate (current rate is 2½%) and the principal divided amongst your family after her death.

✪ If your policy is on an "endowment" plan, these options are available to you at the end of the endowment period as well as to your family if you die before the endowment matures.

✪ We shall be glad to show you what the "settlement options" in your present insurance will do for your family . . . You will find the information to be most helpful and interesting.

Canadians Vanquish Varsity Bears 5-1

Chihawk Scout Impressed With Club's Showing

The fast-stepping Wetaskiwin Canadians couldn't have picked a better time to show their flashy form than at the Edmonton arena last night. With "Tiny" Thompson, chief talent scout for the Chicago Black Hawks, sitting in, the junior red-shirts, putting on a dazzling combination exhibition, crushed Varsity Golden Bears 5-1 in an Intermediate Hockey League fixture.

Dominating most of the night's play, they snatched a two-goal lead in the first stanza added a pair in the second, and plinked in a single-ton in the final frame. Bears' lone marker came in the middle session.

WETASKIWIN'S front line of Colin Kilburn, Ken Cook and Don Robertson packed a good deal of sting for the winners. Cook and the two discs passed Ross Jefferies, in the Varsity cage, while Robertson and Kilburn each came through with singles. Dangerous whenever they were on the ice, the trio came up with an eight-point effort.

Don Michaluk, who was skating like the wind, also broke into the Canadian scoring column with one goal and an assist. Frank Quigley robbed Stan Hendry of a shut-out, blitting the twine with one minute remaining in the middle canto.

COLIN KILBURN, a smoothie with a Wally Stanowski hind-up, came through with the first score of the game at the 15:16 mark of the initial period. In a neat effort, Kilburn pushed the rubber behind Jefferies with an ankle high backhander, after befuddling the Bear defence.

Don Michaluk, fast skating brother of Art, who played with Calgary Stampeders last season, counted the second Canadian goal, poking the disc under Jefferies' pads at 18:05. Kilburn and Vic Stasiuk helped on the play.

CANADIANS continued to monopolize the play in the middle frame and their sweet combination again paid off for the third time at the 4:36 mark. Assuming the "Johnny-on-the-spot" role Ken Cook wasted little time in banging home a goal-crease pass from Don Robertson.

A Kilburn-Cook combination gave "Tiny" and the crowd of 359 paying fans something to talk about in the second period, when they uncorked a nifty passing thrust, which had the Bears and Jefferies beaten all the way.

HOLDING THE disc momentarily in the centre of the ice lane, Kilburn then whipped a smart pass to Cook who flew around the defence and beat Jefferies with a blazing back-hand bullet.

A Varsity gang attack produced the only Bear marker at the 19 minute mark of the second canto. Playing every man up, the green and golds swarm all over the net when Frank Quigley finally netted the rubber. Bill Ingram, solid Bear rear-guard drew an assist on the play.

THE CANADIANS were still driving throughout the third session but missed several scoring opportunities when their drives couldn't find the net.

A smart passing attack—Cook to Michaluk to Robertson—polished off the night's scoring at the 19:33 mark. Sweeping down the ice the trio cleverly manipulated the Bear defence and Robertson had Jefferies at his mercy.

THE VICTORY, their second straight this season, vaulted Canadians into the league's leadership, two points ahead of the second Maroons and Waterloo Mercurys.

Jim Fleming, who played with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League last season, was in with the Purcellmen last night and was always a threat. Could be that the four star selection for Kilburn, Cook, Fleming and Michaluk.

Canadians — Hendry; Lundmark, Purvis; Michaluk, Robertson; Kilburn, Subs: Appleton, Smith, Michaluk, Mc-Nab, Hendry, Goodacre, Stasiuk.

Varsity — Jefferies; Casagrove, Boyce; Fleming, Lyons, Younger, Subs: Mcllroy, Colborne, Hobbs, Cameron, Ingram, Quigley, Case, Hardy, Kinch.

Attendance Is Up But Betting Down

CHICAGO, Nov. 25. —(AP)— More people went to the major race tracks in the United States this year, figures gathered by the Federation of Tax Administrators indicated Monday, but pari-mutuel betting totals at key tracks dropped significantly from the record-breaking 1946 season.

The New York 1947 season ended recently with a total of $352,630,000 bet through the pari-mutuel windows, a drop exceeding 13 per cent compared with last year. In Florida, although attendance increased 10.8 per cent at the big tracks, betting slacked off 5 per cent. In California, revenues from racing decreased 16 per cent for the present fiscal year.

Made Life Unhappy for Bears

While the clever-passing Wetaskiwin Canadians were handing the winless Varsity Golden Bears a 5-1 defeat at the Edmonton arena last night, the smiling pair of smoothies captured above were turning in outstanding roles for Clarence Moher's club. Colin Kilburn, on the left, flashed his form once and helped in two others, while line mate Ken Cook pushed two discs into the hemp and drew one assist. Kilburn, Cook and Don Robertson, who formed Canadians starting line, picked up a neat total of eight points during the fixture.

Negotiations Break Down

Flyers Must Carry On Without Eddie Cutts

It would appear that unless something akin to a miracle happens—and soon—Edmonton Flyers will not be using Eddie Cutts on defence, at least not for this season in any event.

FLYERS LEFT last night for Saskatoon where they play Quesnel tonight. The team goes on to Regina for Wednesday and will return to Saskatoon for another scheduled fixture Friday.

Coach Currie took along 16 players and said he expected to use the same lineup tonight which operated against Regina here last Friday. Gordon Buttrey and Bud McPherson were extra players taken along.

EIGHTEEN WERE in the Flyer party made up of Coach Frank Currie and Trainer Doug Hardy and players Al Rollins, Pug Young, Gordon Watt, Bill Pestinger, Louis Holmes, Elmer Kreller, Freddy Smilen, Alex Wright, Morey Himstad, Johnny Black, Billy Maher, Doug Anderson, Bing Merluk, Andy Cvercko, Buttrey and McPherson.

DETROIT, Nov. 25. —(AP)— Contracts for a world's welterweight title bout between champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson of New York and Chuck Taylor of Coaldale, Pa., were signed yesterday calling for a 15-round match here Dec. 19.

Sport Ramblings

by Bert Greer

Time marches on and great sportsmen come and go, but the name Purvis appears to be destined to linger on the sports front for some time to come.

Away back in 1928 in the small town of Trochu a young fellow by the name of Clint Purvis opened a barber shop. He loved baseball—was actually reared in the game. Clint was a congenial lad and soon found himself up to his neck in both baseball and hockey.

He coached and played with the Trochu ball club from 1928 till 1939 and coached the hockey team for 14 years.

Now Clint's baseball and hockey days are over so far as playing is concerned, but he still has considerable interest in hockey—particularly in the Wetaskiwin Junior Canadians. His interest in that club is easily understood, too, for his son Al is one of the sturdy defencemen on the roster. Al gave a good account of himself last night while his dad and another former baseball and hockey star also looked on.

The other distinguished gent was Tiny Thompson, who used to knock baseballs right out of Mewata Park in Calgary, and whose goal-keeping prowess won him the Vezina trophy several times while with Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League.

Tiny had his eye on young Purvis, too, last night and remarked that the youngster had plenty on the puck. "He's still young and has lots of time to develop," Tiny was the opinion of the chief scout for the Chicago Black Hawks.

Clint Purvis who also spent several years in Calgary, is now a resident of Edmonton, and it wouldn't be a bit surprising if some day in the near future we answer the phone and take down the lineup of some team over on the South Side, and Clint is on the other end of the wire. Clint lives over there, his heart's in hockey and baseball, and we don't think he can live happily ever after without having a group of energetic youngsters under his wing.

Tiny Thompson's presence might not have had a thing to do with it, but the Canadians were buzzing around like a bunch of hungry hornets last night as they plastered a stinging 5-1 defeat on University of Alberta Golden Bears in an intermediate game.

They looked particularly good in all departments and while one of their checker-board plays were in progress Thompson came up with the remark that Ken Cook was definitely slated for the Black Hawks next season. The flashy forward didn't do his chances any harm, either, for he hammered in a couple of nifty goals and lent a helping hand on another.

Tiny was reluctant to predict what will happen come playoff time when the Canadians will probably bump into the highly-regarded Lethbridge Native Sons, but was quick to admit that the Wetaskiwin team was "a nice club."

Some of the players on the Wetaskiwin team caught the eye of the former big leaguer. They were Vic Stasiuk, Colin Kilburn and Don Michaluk, who were also sizzling hot last night.

Tiny was sitting beside Bruno Pasquallatis, rugged and fast defenceman of the Canadians who injured his shoulder in his last outing. Thompson also had words of praise for the ability of the big boy from the smelter city.

"Will Cy Thomas stay up with the Leafs?"

"Definitely," he remarked, and went on to say the former Edmonton flash received a tough break when he suffered a wrist injury. "He'll have to start all over again."

Basketball is still flourishing in the city, but according to Clare Hollingsworth, mentor of the Starlets, there aren't sufficient fourts to accommodate all the clubs.

The majority of the games are being played at the Eastwood court, almost as broad as it is long, which is actually no drawback to the type of basketball they play these days. Most of the play is concentrated around the baskets, with the defence and forwards a small circle in front of the hoop and the attackers darting around the guard.

Since there is little mid-court play it might be suggested that cages be placed cross-wise and have four clubs on the floor at the same time. This would give the sport a "Chinese Checker" effect, particularly if all the players decided to make a dash for the other end simultaneously.

Perhaps this brand of play in more effective than the old type, which left two players back on defence and called for a passing battle all the way up the floor, but from a spectator standpoint the east-off variety seemed to create more interest and excitement.

Cliff Simpson Tops American Point-Getters

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Cliff Simpson of Indianapolis still leads American Hockey League scorers, but Providence's Ed Prokop is closing in.

Simpson, leader for the last few weeks, has a total of 34 points, only one more than Prokop, according to official statistics released Monday.

RAY LAPLANTE of Providence is third with 28 and Fern Gauthier of Indianapolis fourth with 26.

Simpson, with 19 goals, leads the sharpshooters while Laplante and Wally Stefaniw of Philadelphia are deadlocked for the play-making leadership with 18 assists apiece. Baz Bastien of Pittsburgh maintained his point-setting role among the goalies with a 2.41 average.

Rate Notre Dame Above Michigan

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Notre Dame's resounding 59-6 rout of Tulane sent the fighting Irish back into the No. 1 spot among United States college teams in the weekly Associated Press poll, but it was a close finish with the powerful Michigan Wolverines.

Of the football writers participating this week, 97 put Notre Dame in first place and 81 voted for Michigan with Southern Methodist drawing six first, Southern California and North Carolina, three each, and Penn State and Columbia, each one.

The Irish had 1,798 votes to 1,768 for Michigan, which led last week with 140 of 246 votes.

Deviecq Opens Goal Parade

Stamps Hit Old Form To Smother Caps 7-3

CALGARY, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Showing for the first time in several weeks the kind of hockey that carried them into two Allan Cup finals in the past two years, Calgary Stampeders last night cut Regina Caps leadership in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League to four points by platering a 7-3 victory over Joe Fodey's clever Saskatchewan club.

Caps, holding Stamps scoreless until midway through the first period, came out of the session trailing only 2-1, but they started to tire in the middle frame, trailed 6-2 at the second inte~val, then fought desperately through a third-period with only the goal-keeping of Gerry Fodey keeping Stampeders' score down.

THE FORWARD line of Butch McDonald, Don Culley and Stan Deviecq set the pace for Stamps with three goals, Culley getting two of them. Deviecq one and McDonald assisting on three. Dune Grant, Ken Stewart, Doug Cairns and Tony Desmarais scored the others while Ab McDougall, Harvey Barnes and Vic Myles scored for Regina.

Fodey played in-and-out hockey, stopped 29 shots in addition to the seven he let go by, 13 of his saves coming in the third period when he hit the ice after Stamps had taken Capitals in the game. Russ Dertell in the Calgary nets stopped 20 shots Eight of them in the first frame when Caps held an edge in their attack.

An eight-foot shot by Deviecq that went into the top left corner 4:44 after the Calgary player had taken a pass from Culley sent Stamps ahead midway through the first period and Grant made it 2-0 on a cross-goal pass by hunter after a neat two-man passing attack before McDougall finally found the net on a pass from Bill Kyle.

Fairburn, banished for a tripping penalty at the end of the first frame, was still in the penalty box in the second when Stamps went ahead 3-1.

A beautiful forward 'pass by McDonald put Stewart in the clear two minutes later and the veteran backhanded the rubber into the net, then Bunny Dame passed out to Cairns from behind the Regina net and the veteran Calgary centre golfed the puck past Fodey.

A smart bit of stickhandling by Barnes took the Cap right through the Calgary defence for a shot that gave Dertell no chance, but Stamps got it back when Desmarais took a pass near the Regina blueline and bounced the puck off Fodey's pads into the net.

Breadon Reaction Coming

Rumor Still Persists Cardinal Chain Sold

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Reports persisted today without official confirmation or denial that St. Louis Cardinals and at least part of the National League club's vast minor league baseball properties have been sold to a syndicate including Postmaster-General Robert E. Hannegan.

Owner Sam Breadon, besieged with inquiries, declined to make an announcement on the matter later. "I can't say anything now, but I will have something to say later," Breadon said. "However, it won't be today."

The reports placed the purchase price at $3,500,000.

WITHOUT confirming its sources, the Post-Despatch said Breadon was reported to have accepted an offer of that amount from a syndicate including Hannegan, the Shea Brothers, movie magnates; Edwin W. Pauley, California oil man; and Sidney Salomon, Jr., insurance executive.

Sports columnist Bill Corum, writing in the New York Journal-American, said the club and be will make an announcement on the long-time owner of the Cardinals, are neighbors here.

The Skouras brothers are owners of a country-wide chain of theatres. Spyros Skouras is president of Twentieth Century-Fox. Hannegan heads a chain of theatres on the West Coast, and George operates an eastern chain.

BREADON gained control of the Cardinals and became the club's president in 1921, when it faced serious financial troubles. It was thereafter the Cardinals put into operation the minor league farm system visualized by Branch Rickey, then a power in the club's front office.

This was the beginning of the Cardinal climb from cellar to riches. The club has won nine pennants and six world championships.

Berardino Signs Movie Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Johnny Berardino, second baseman trailed by St. Louis Browns to Washington Senators Saturday, said Monday he has signed a seven-year acting contract with Richard K. Polimer productions and is "through with baseball."

Polimer offered him the contract after viewing his work in a forthcoming racing picture, Berardino said, and "I snapped it up."

Berardino was traded to Washington by the Browns for second baseman Gerry Priddy, and a bundle of cash. He batted .265 in 90 American League baseball games in 1946.

Detroit Wingmen Crowding Leaders

MONTREAL, Nov. 25. —(CP)— Jimmy McFadden, Detroit Red Wings' sophomore wingman, really went to town in the Motor City squad's twin week-end victories over Chicago when he collected three goals and five assists to move into third place in the National Hockey League scoring race, only one point behind the leaders, Ray Apps of Toronto, and Montreal's Maurice Richard.

His teammate Ted Lindsay did nearly as well with four goals and two assists to take over fourth spot. While Apps had to be content with one goal, Richard notched four markers to move into a tie with the Toronto centre.

The leaders:

Skater Will Fly To Olympic Games

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Canada's hope in the Ladies' Olympic figure skating games, Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, will probably fly to Davos, Switzerland, about the middle of December to accustom herself to the altitude and open-air rinks before the trials in January, it was learned Monday.

Sheldon Galbraith, trainer of the Ottawa skater who won the world championship at Stockholm, has been appointed official coach for the Canadian Olympic skating team, which is allowed only one coach, one chaperone and one judge when it leaves for Europe. The judge and chaperone have not yet been appointed.

Trade Reports "Killed"

Lou Boudreau Signs Two-Year Contract

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Lou Boudreau today signed "what virtually amounts to a two-year contract to manage the Cleveland Indians," President Bill Veeck announced, putting a stopper on persistent reports that the star shortstop would be traded.

In answer to questions, Veeck elaborated on his brief statement by saying "virtually a two-year" contract meant the agreement was "non-cancellable" and if Boudreau were fired before the two years expired he would be paid the contractual salary.

THAT SALARY was not disclosed, but was described by Veeck as "substantially increased" over Boudreau's 1947 salary, estimated at up to $50,000.

The decision to retain Boudreau in the managerial job he has held six years will be popular with local fans, who bombarded Veeck with letters of protest after an announcement that Boudreau would be traded if Veeck could arrange a deal he felt would help the fourth-place club's chances to win an American League pennant.

Fine Ring Card At Jasper Place

Community Hall at Jasper Place was the scene of an action-packed boxing card and an exhibition wrestling match before 225 fans last night.

Rex Nuthall and Geoff Nuthall put on a mat performance when their opponents failed to show up.

Two of the five boxing bouts were won by decision, one ended in a draw and the remaining two were exhibitions.

JACK BUTTREY showed plenty of class to gain the nod over Bill Halbert in three rounds and Neil McKay had too much ring knowledge for Edgar Robinson. Pat Whitworth, who tipped the scales at 70 pounds, and Don Whitworth, 75, battled to a draw.

Jack Murray met Gordon Riddell and Rex Nuthall fought Hugh McDonald in the exhibitions.

L. Nuthall acted as judge and announcer, with A. G. Shute as the second judge, Harry Fontaine was referee and Jack Reilly, timer.

Italian Pounds Bob Montgomery

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Livio Minelli, a speedy whirling Dervish from Milan, Italy, blasted former lightweight champion Bob Montgomery's return to the ring last night with a popular 10-round decision before 5,974 at the arena.

The Italian gained his 103rd consecutive victory as an amateur and professional boxer and his ninth straight since coming to the United States.

MONTGOMERY, weighing 142, was a prohibitive favorite at more than 2 to 1 at ringside.

The 148-pound Italian featured a long left that he started from the floor and ended in Montgomery's mid-section.

Olympic Team's Goalies Chosen

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)— A corporal from Whitehorse in the Yukon who has been playing hockey since 1936 and a flying officer from Ottawa, have been chosen as the two goaltenders for the RCAF hockey team which will represent Canada at the Olympics next year, air force authorities announced last night.

ONE IS CPL. Ross King, 28, 155-pound former Portage La Prairie, Man., junior who also played for the Truro Bearcats in 1941 to 1943. He was formerly stationed at Debert, N.S., but had been transferred to Whitehorse, from whence he came here to try out for the Olympic squad.

The other is FO. Trev. Williams, 28, 155-pounder who has been playing hockey in the Ottawa Valley since 1937.

NAMING OF the net spots brought to 15 the number of players chosen for the 17-man team that Canada will send to Switzerland late next month. Choices for the remaining two places will be made by Coach George (Buck) Boucher prior to the Olympic team's first full-scale game, an exhibition tilt here Dec. 13 with McGill University.

Britain Names Swim Potentials

LONDON, Nov. 25.— (AP) — Britain has named 55 swimmers and divers as potential representatives in next year's Olympics.

The amateur swimming associations of England, Scotland and Wales, which selected the candidates, have gone solidly for youth.

Among those chosen are two 16-year-old Scottish twins, Jack and Robert Wadrop, and the "water babies," 14-year-old Margaret Girvan and Elinor Gordon, also of Scotland.

Of the 55 nominees for Olympic badges, the best prospect for a title appears to be Roy Romain, who holds the British and European breast stroke titles and records.

Star of the women "probables" is Scotland's 16-year-old Cathie Gibson, holder of three British championships.

Braves Drop Two

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The unconditional releases of Si Johnson, veteran righthand pitcher, and catcher Ray Berres was announced Monday by General Manager John Quinn of Boston Braves. Johnson broke into the majors in 1928 with Cincinnati Reds. Berres entered the National League with Brooklyn in 1934.

They'll Wager On Anything

Bored Britons Break Monotony By Betting

By Michael O'Mara

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(CP)—If you're tired of wagering on the outcome of horse races, football matches and election returns, come to let-happy Britain where you can get a fiver down on anything from the weather to how fast a cockroach can crawl along a bar.

Factory workers in the Midlands are known to bet on the first letter in the headline of tomorrow's newspaper . . . at a public house in suburban Peckham there are regular cockroach contests with anything from half a pint of beer to £10 ($40) riding on the result.

"SHEER BOREDOM is the cause of it all," says Dr. F. T. Lawton secretary of the National Anti-Gambling League.

Dr. Lawton's argument covers probably 95 per cent of Britain's regular gamblers. Certainly the hundreds of thousands who invest weekly in the country-wide football "pools" don't really expect to win—although there's always a chance of being the man in a million who hits the £10,000 jackpot. But a little flyer on the pools gives a man something to plan during the week and an exciting five minutes reading the results Saturday night.

Similarly thousands of pounds cross St. George's Channel every time the Eire government stages a sweepstake on a big horse race. Nobody figures to win—but it's fun.

Britain is a paradise for those who enjoy freak bets. They still tell of Golfer-Stockbroker Richard Sutton's feat in 1938 of playing the several miles from Tower Bridge to White's Club in Westminister in 142 strokes.

THE BET-A-MILLION boys remember the time Cotton Magnate James K. Tasker came all the way from Alabama to win a bet that he could spend £1,000 a day in London for a week, without contributing to charity.

Like your bets dangerous? Stanley Stenson bet Horace Mybill he'd enter the Lions' cage at Whipsnade Zoo and retrieve Horace's hat. Horace threw it into the enclosure. Horace threw it in.

Horace related the terms of the bet to the coroner at the inquest on Stanley.

Lacked Confidence In Fox

Dissension Blamed For Ottawa Defeat

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP) — Tony Golab, star flying wing of Ottawa Rough Riders, set the capital's football fraternity abuzz with the flat statement that Ottawa's loss of the Big Four championship to Toronto Argonauts this season was due to "non-confidence" in Sammy Fox, the now-departed coach of the club.

Responding to a toast at a banquet at Ashbury College for members of the school's senior football team, Golab himself had high praise for Fox, but said the coach had been issued an "ultimatum" by the club executive three days before the first playoff game with Argos, which Ottawa lost 3-0, subsequently losing the second game in Toronto 21-0.

THIS WAS later denied by Rough Rider president Eddie Emerson, who said "certain opposition" was against Fox and that the coach was called in to a special meeting when the "opposition" presented its arguments. From that meeting a statement was issued saying a vote of confidence had been given Fox who left the club at the end of the playoffs and headed for the west coast.

Emerson added, however, that "it's a sure thing that not all the players were behind him. Dissension will eat the heart out of any team."

IN HIS ADDRESS, Golab said that "seventy-five per cent of the reason why we lost the games was due to non-confidence in the coach."

As for himself, he said Fox "might not have been the best football player, but he was the best coach I have ever worked under.

"We all suffered because some had no confidence in Fox."

Golab believed Argos strength was to be found in the fact that through former Argos players acting as coaches of high school teams, Toronto interscholastic football stars were coached the way Argos played.

"COACH Ted Morris of Argos does not have to go into a corner and teach newcomers the fundamentals of football."

Golab added that "games have been won and lost in the line and this is another reason why we lost the games we did."

Pari-Mutuel Wagering Shows Decline For '47

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Race-track customers kept a firmer clutch on their bankrolls in Canada's 1947 turf season, feeding into the pari-mutuel machines almost $148,000 less than last year.

Pari-mutuel betting on the horses dropped to $48,519,900, the department of agriculture reported today, as compared with $48,667,704 in 1946.

The drop represented a greater tightening of the rubber around the bankroll than is apparent from the totals, for this year saw considerably more racing than last. There were 36 meets totalling 329 days at the tracks, against 33 meets and 305 days in 1946.

More than half the money that went into the machines was wagered in Ontario. In that province's 178 racing days, the clients sent $29,034,232 through the windows, more than $1,500,000 down from last year's $30,714,144.

In two of the six reporting provinces, the pari-mutuel take went up from last year. These were Quebec, where it rose by about $70,000 to $2,491,286, and British Columbia, where patrons tossed in $1,700,000 more for a total of $8,805,-929.

Edmonton showed an increase of $54,426 over the 1946 figures.

Racing statistics by provinces in Western Canada last year's figures in brackets:

Manitoba — Days 28 (28), amount wagered $4,134,468 ($4,558,347), prize money $193,400 ($196,000).

Saskatchewan: Days 16 (15), amount wagered $746,— ($616,978), prize money, $45,675 ($41,300).

British Columbia: Days 70 (63), amount wagered $6,895,929 ($7,693,792), prize money $447,436 ($354,000).

Analyst Tells Story

Russia's Industry Is Geared For War

By Sigrid Arne

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. — (AP) — Ellsworth L. Raymond, former industrial analyst at the United States embassy in Moscow, says Russia's industry is entirely geared for war, but it will take the Soviets another 20 years to approach the industrial power of the United States.

HE BALANCES Russian industrial strength and weakness in a forthcoming magazine (Saturday Evening Post) article.

Raymond says "Soviet economic planning is dominated by the belief that friction between Communism and capitalism is unavoidable, that this friction may at any time turn into war, and that it will disappear only with the decease of capitalism."

He points out that Russia now has the second largest industry in the world, and that it is turning out "armaments good ones and in large quantities, plus the many items—from coal to conveyors—required for the process of armament manufacture."

AMONG RUSSIAN industrial assets he lists the following:

1. Russia is the only country in the world with a heavy industry larger than its light, or consumers goods, industry.

2. Russia is rebuilding her industry in the interior.

3. Russian factories are making a wide range of military supplies, and they hope to have the atom bomb by 1950.

4. Every large industrial plant has a "military section" which keeps plans up-to-date so the factory can shift quickly from peacetime to war production.

THEN RAYMOND lists Russian weaknesses:

He cites the large war destruction which now demands rebuilding of homes for 5,000,000 people, half the railway cars and two fifths of the country's farm machinery.

The Russians are already behind schedule on the current five-year plan.

The Soviet transportation system is far behind, in the air, on land, on the water.

On the atom bomb, they are stuck for men to turn out precision instruments, and they must build huge hydro-electric plants.

Dana Wilgress Heads Committee

HAVANA, Nov. 25. — (AP) — Dana H. Wilgress, Canadian minister to Switzerland and head of the 10-man Canadian delegation, yesterday was named head of the commercial policy committee of the United Nations conference on trade and employment.

The Canadian minister was backed by the United States in nominations by the sub-committee of the committee of the heads of delegations. The conference, which opened Friday, will give final consideration to the draft charter for an international trade organization drawn up at a meeting of the preparatory committee held in Geneva from April to October this year.

The chief struggle centred on naming chairmen of the two most important committees to pass on the ITO charter — employment and economic activity, and economic development.

Argentina demanded both posts be filled by Latin Americans and captured the second for Mexico, but William L. Clayton, United States delegation head pushed to victory his fight for J. J. Deman, Australian minister for post-war reconstruction, for employment and economic activity chairman.

L. R. Beteta, Mexican minister of finance, was nominated chairman of the economic development committee. The Latin American bloc also put Dr. Cesar Charlone of Uruguay in as head of the committee on restrictive business practices. George Hakin of Lebanon heads the committee of intergovernmental commodity agreements and Erik Colban of Norway the organization committee.

Better Ammunition

HALIFAX, Nov. 25. — (CP) — With a ton of bundles for Britain tucked away in her torpedo storage, the Royal Navy submarine Artemis will sail from Halifax Wednesday after a two-months training period with the Canadian navy, it was announced last night.

The Wilsons are on their Toes!

THE brisk pace of modern living doesn't bother the Wilson family one bit. They're right up in front. Mr. Wilson is a star member of his firm—always alert and full of energy. Mrs. Wilson is the envy of her neighbours—she's at the market with her early work done before other wives have finished their breakfast dishes.

How do they do it?

Simply by keeping their bodies tuned up! Warning signs like headaches, dizziness, aching joints and backache are never ignored in the Wilson family. They realize that their kidneys have to be kept in good order to keep the system free of wastes that tend to slow them down. The answer is Gin Kidney Pills.

Gin Kidney Pills are not a new remedy. They have been helping people for over forty years . . . assisting them to maintain their health and efficiency by helping to keep the body free of excess wastes and poisons . . . Paul Gallico Says:

Last week our town had itself another jolly old boxing scandal, involving a public squabble in Madison Square Garden between two parties by the name of Jack LaMotta and Billy Fox, both of them strangers to me, since my own retirement from the sports world dates back to 1936. They seem to be middleweights and, from the accounts, brother Fox belabored LaMotta with such effect as to cause him to yield himself, or rather the referee intervened ostensibly to save LaMotta's life. Witnesses however, practically unanimously pronounced it a Thing.

Since I functioned for many years as a paid and professional observer of such shenanigans, I was bound to enjoy some thoughts on the affair, and at positively no extra cost to yourself, propose to let you in on them.

Bravo! He Says

I was delighted with the courage and aggressiveness of the New York sports writers who, with one exception, wasted no time whatsoever branding the so-called exhibition between the two tearing tiger as a poorly contrived and not too well-rehearsed waltz. They named names, identified the villians involved and quoted chapter and verse, indicating that they are awake and alert to protecting the public. Bravo!

But I was even more enchanted with what struck me as the supercourage of the exception, a sports writer for a metropolitan paper by the name of John McNulty who came out in print and admitted that to him it looked good. As far as he was concerned, he had been present at the ferocious encounter in which one gladiator overcame the other with his gloved fists.

Brother McNulty, permit me to shake you by the hand. I feel we are kindred spirits. For in the days of yore when I pounded a typewriter at the [illegible], I was always the innocent and wide-eyed gillie who believed implicitly that the gavotte I had just witnessed was an honest exhibition of skill and raw red courage.

I remember one lulu between a pair of bantams that took place at the old New York Velodrome in the Bronx which I attended as a reporter and critic. Wow, what a fight! They were up, they were down! Left and right to the jaw, every one a haymaker. I could hardly wait to tear the cover off the old mill and release a torrent of classic prose to describe this epic encounter. I paid tribute to their skill, their stamina, their courage and gallantry under the victor and vanquished. Never had there been such drama, such a desperate conflict, so dramatic a knockout.

Just a Waltz

Next day, the late and immortal Damon Runyon complimented me on the fire of this literary endeavor, adding somewhat acidly, "There was only one thing the matter with it. That one was strictly off the springboard. Everybody knew it was going to be a splasheroo."

Everybody, that is except me. I never seemed to know or even learn to recognize a minuet while it was going on. I wasn't even on to it the night a prominent heavyweight pugilist entered the roped arena at Madison Square Garden stewed to the gills to encounter an equally prominent opponent hopped to the eyeballs with drugs to stimulate him to ferocity. I thought that all the falling down, crawling around and getting up was due to the natural friction that occurs when an invincible force meets an immovable body. McNulty, some to my heart.

I have no way of knowing whether the LaMotta-Fox affair was an Acquacade, but if it was, I want to be the first to congratulate the fortunate spectators, for, as I remember those swimming meets, they were always quite wonderful.

TAKES OVER DUTIES

Charles H. McLoon, recently appointed as United States vice-consul here has arrived to take over his new duties.

Imperial Enters Lloydminster Area

Further development of the Lloydminster oil area was indicated today with an announcement by Imperial Oil Company officials that their company would start an exploration program in the near future.

The initial program calls for drilling of two wells on Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Company land. The obtaining of production would likely bring a large-scale and continuous drilling program by Imperial in that district.

IMPERIAL'S FIRST well-site in that area will be an offset to the northeast string of 10 "better-than-average" Superior wells in the Blackfoot section of Canada's largest "black oil" reserve.

News from the Leduc sector of the Edmonton oil fields today revealed little development over reports of the previous day. Home Oil-Leduc No. 1, at 5,288 feet, was still attempting to regain circulation lost during the week-end. This well is in the D3 zone, just above the indicated oil level. After getting oil in the D2 and gas in upper levels of the D3.

East Leduc-South Brazeau No. 1, in the zone south extension success of the Leduc sector, is expected to be placed on production sometime today. Plug has been drilled out after setting casing at this success and tubing was being run yesterday. East Leduc No. 3, which if successful, would extend the proven area to the southeast, is drilling at 2,300 feet.

GLOBE LEDUC WEST No. 3, an assured producer in both the D3 and D2 zones, has set casing to 5,270 feet in the lower zone and plug will be drilled and the well placed on production towards the end of the week. Drilling rig from this well will be shifted in the next few days about 100 feet where an offset well, Globe-Leduc No. 8, will be drilled to extract oil from the D2 zone.

Globe-Leduc West No. 4, quarter of a mile north of No. 3, is drilling below 2,300 feet.

Canadian Gulf Oil Company has completed drilling at its Stony Plain wildcat, nine miles northwest of the Leduc sector, and has run seven inch casing to 4,715 feet, previous to testing the D1 zone of devonian. The well was drilled a total depth of 6,568 feet. Some showings of oil were found in the D1 zone

Will Hold Inquests Into Two Deaths

Inquests will be conducted into the deaths of seven-year-old Ernest Hyman, and Sgt. Allen Bray, RCAF, killed in traffic accidents during the last three days, it was announced today. Detective William McDonald stated that the airman's inquest will open Tuesday for identification of the body and will then be adjourned to a later date. No date has been set for the other inquest.

Retired Official Is City Visitor

Assistant to the vice-president of International Nickle Ltd. prior to his retirement in September, 1946, E. A. Collins, of Sudbury, is visiting with his sister, Mrs. B. R. Orser, of Edmonton.

With Mrs. Collins, the former nickle official is a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

The couple plan to leave shortly to spend the winter in Mississippi.

Outline of the program planned by the Highlands Community League and the Edmonton Recreation Commission for the winter months will be given to Highland community young people at a meeting to be held in the Highlands School gymnasium on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. John McIntyre, president of the Highlands League and Jack Reilly, Highlands centre supervisor, will address the meeting.

Welfare Probe Hears Evidence

The Royal Commission conducting the probe of the Alberta child welfare department went into its second day of hearings Tuesday, at the court house.

Evidence was heard on charges that the department refused to cooperate with the IODE or its consultants, that the minister of public welfare refused to co-operate in any way or to make department reports and data available, and that a letter from the department had been sent to municipalities referring to Section 69 of the Child Welfare Act, which points out that no confidential information shall be disclosed without the minister's approval.

Alberta's welfare minister is Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, who also is health minister.

Dr. Charlotte Whitton, director of the IODE investigation in Alberta, was on the stand during the lenten session Tuesday. A series of letters between Dr. Whitton, the provincial chapter of the IODE and provincial government officials, dating from Jan. 19, 1946 to Feb. 4, 1947, was filed as evidence.

FIRST REQUEST by the IODE to conduct the study was presented to Dr. Cross through a letter from the provincial president. The answer informed the organization that a committee for legislation and administrative branches of welfare work rested with the provincial government and that any investigation should be undertaken by that body.

The reply also referred to a commission set up in 1943 to investigate welfare work, and that the reports and recommendations of that committee were being carried out. Any other survey would be confusing to the public and the public welfare department.

Fire Regulations Being Observed

Fire regulations in regards to attendance at the Edmonton arena are being observed, Mayor Harry Ainlay stated Tuesday. He was commenting on charges that attendance in excess of the total permitted under the fire regulations was allowed in the Arena at Western Canada League hockey games.

Mayor Ainlay said the seating capacity of the arena was 5,412, with rush seat standing room placed at 1,088, for a total maximum attendance of 6,500. He said that sales of tickets have never exceeded this maximum.

He added that it may be necessary to resort to the use of turnstiles at the admission gates, but the Exhibition Association was reluctant to do this because of the delay in getting patrons into the rink. The turnstiles would be used to keep children out, who now evade the ticket checkers during the rush/admission period immediately prior to the start of the game.

Mayor Ainlay said there was some slackness in enforcing fire regulations as to seating of boys in the aisles.

No further cases have been reported from that section of the country, it was stated, and it is believed that the course of the epidemic has definitely been checked. The Hutterite colonies are being kept under strict quarantine.

Turnley Requests $100,000 From City

Alleging he had been "defrauded, swindled and defamed," and that his life had been ruined by the provincial goverament and members of the Edmonton public school board, Francis R. Turnley, Edmonton, Monday night claimed damages of $100,000 from the city of Edmonton.

Mr. Turnley, the inventor of the Turnley system of reading, appeared before council to discuss a business license which would permit him to carry on the business of a research school.

He charged he had been "railroaded" by education authorities who had refused to accept his reading system, which, he claimed, had been extremely beneficial to many backward children. Mr. Turnley said there were several parents in the audience at the council meeting prepared to support his assertion.

Mayor Harry Ainlay said the matter on which Mr. Turnley was making his claim was a purely educational one and beyond the legislative competence of council.

U of A Professor Tells of "Flight"

Prof. William Rowan, director of zoology at the University of Alberta, guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club told members of "Flight: Birds and Man."

He traced the story of flight from the time insects first flew on the earth 300,000,000 years ago, to the jet planes of the present time. In speaking of the terrible weapons of destruction which have been developed, Prof. Rowan said that although the world was standing on the brink of the greatest era of development in history, it also was on the brink of the greatest war in history, should it ever take place.

He was introduced by Clifford Roy and thanked by Claude Humphrey. President Roy Henry was chairman.

2nd Trial Finds Millman Guilty

A supreme court jury Monday afternoon, after 90 minutes deliberation, returned a guilty verdict against George Millman, Edmonton, on charges of breaking and entering, and being in possession of housebreaking tools by night. Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor remanded the accused until Wednesday morning for sentence.

A further charge against Millman, that of retaining possession of stolen property valued at more than $250, was adjourned until the January assizes.

This is the second trial of Millman on the breaking and entering charges, a supreme court jury last week failing to agree upon a verdict after four hours of deliberation.

Evidence adduced at both trials was that Millman was found in the premises of the Gas and Oil Products Co. Ltd., 116 street and 104 avenue, when police investigated an alarm turned in by a district resident. The police found the accused crouched behind a counter, and discovered the housebreaking tools in a room where accused was hiding.

Millman told the court he was returning from a visit in the Calder district, and that he saw two men entering the building. He also entered the structure to investigate. Immediately after entry, he stated, he kicked against an obstruction which alarmed the two men. Shortly afterwards the police arrived, found the accused on the premises, and arrested him. Millman asserted he had entered the building to frustrate a crime, not to commit one.

Authorize Agreement Sell Off-Peak Power

City council Monday night authorized the city commissioners to enter into an agreement with the Calgary Power Co., under which the city will supply off-peak power to the company for the next three years. Under the terms of the proposed agreement the company's demand for power would vary from 10,000,000 to possibly as high as 35,000,000 kilowatt hours during any year.

THE PRICE to be paid by the company for the energy would be based on the price of coal as delivered at the power plant, and it is estimated the power plant will make a profit of $8,000 over and above all expenses, including the cost of coal, taxes, extra labor, maintenance and depreciation on each 10,000,000 kilowatt hours sold the company.

IT WAS pointed out by the commissioners that the sale of each 10,000,000 kilowatt hours will mean the purchase of an additional 10,000 tons of coal from Northern Alberta coal mines immediately adjacent to the city.

THE COMPANY IS prepared to pay 50 cents a kilowatt hour for energy generated from coal costing $2.55 or less per ton, and the price increased by one cent per kilowatt hour for each 10 cents increase in coal price to a maximum 56 cents for energy generated with coal costing from $3.06 to $3.15 a ton.

ALSO THE company will agree

Urges Quick Emergency Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Quick emergency aid to thwart "Communist aggression" in western Europe was urged by Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep.-Mich.) yesterday as another Republican senator, Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, declared that "meagre rations" at home might result.

Opening senate debate on the administration proposal to send bill will have to be acted on later.) Italy, France and Austria up to $597,000,000 in stop-gap food and other supplies, Vandenberg said speedy action is necessary because "a new type of Communism"—with terror and sabotage for weapons—"is on the march."

Supporters of the winter relief measure, already approved unanimously by the Vandenberg-headed foreign relations committee, predicted that the senate would approve the bill Wednesday or Thursday. (The measure contains no actual funds; an appropriation

Welcome New Payment Plan

REGINA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Farm and government officials and veterans' organizations yesterday welcomed a federal order-in-council permitting payment for Veterans' Land Act farm holdings to be made on the basis of crop yield. Life Loss, Damage Heavy — Fires

There were 55,400 fires in Canada during 1946, resulting in 408 deaths and property destroyed with a value of $49,413,363, R. R. Moore (provincial superintendent of insurance, told members of the Alberta Insurance Agents Association, holding their annual convention in the Macdonald hotel Monday.

MR. MOORE provided interesting facts concerning administration of insurance laws in Alberta.

There have been 18 meetings of the advisory board on insurance enforcement in 1947 to date. The board has dealt with 80 applications to sell insurance, other than life insurance since the start of the year. Of these 64 applications were declined on the grounds of lack of suitable qualifications, 16 were approved and 13 additional applications were withdrawn.

There have been several prosecutions, resulting in five persons being fined $200 and costs each for selling from unlicensed companies; two fines of $50 and costs for writing insurance without licenses; one fined $25 and costs for the same violation and six fined $20 and costs each for other like violations.

Mr. Moore urged the agents to build an even larger organization, stressing the importance of the relationship between agents and policy-holders.

E. H. B. PIPER, Montreal, general counsel for the All-Canada Insurance Federation, spoke to the delegates on the Automobile Indemnity Act, pointing out what he considered refect in the law.

M. R. Hardy, Barrhead, was elected president for the next association year when election of a new board of officers was made Monday afternoon.

He succeeds L. H. Smith of Olds, who continues on the executive as immediate past-president. R. H. Kent, Medicine Hat, is the new vice-president, while J. C. Wainwright, Calgary, continues as secretary.

THE FOLLOWING were named directors for 1948: B. Johnson, Stettler; J. Polehoyke, Dayaland; N. A. Colley, Lethbridge; J. M. Drouin, St. Paul; D. W. Pratt, Grande Prairie; C. W. Richardson, Peace River; Gordon Taylor, MLA, Drumheller; T. Johns, Lloydminster; J. Edwards, Brooks; V. N. McKinnon, Hanna; R. S. McLean, Edmonton; B. H. Joyce, Calgary; J. Branift, Pincher Creek; G. W. Graff, Edson; A. M. Lees, Red Deer.

MR. McLEAN IS president of the Edmonton branch of the association.

The convention concluded with a banquet at which Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary and minister of economic affairs, was special guest speaker. Mr. Piper delivered a second address at new vice-president, while J. C. the dinner meeting.

Seek Mayoralty Post $100 Deposit

A radical departure in municipal election procedure was proposed in a notice of motion given Monday night by Ald. James H. Ogilvie at the regular meeting of city council.

He proposed that a charter amendment be sought which would provide that candidates for the mayoralty post a $100 deposit which would be forfeited in cases where candidates failed to obtain 25 per cent of the votes cast for the successful candidates.

Mr. Ogilvie suggested also that aldermanic candidates post a $25 deposit, the deposit to be forfeited where candidates failed to get 25 per cent of the votes cast for the lowest successful candidate.

He also proposed that charter amendment be sought which would prohibit any candidate seeking election to more than one civic office.

Alderman Ogilvie's notice of motion will be debated at the next regular meeting of city council.

Ald. Sidney Parsons gave notice of motion seeking a program of adequate lighting throughout the city, the work to be carried out as soon as manpower and materials were available.

Mayor Harry Ainlay expressed the opinion that council had authorized a progressive street lighting program, but shortage of materials had prevented progress on the project.

Ald. Ogilvie suggested that the commissioners bring in a report for the next meeting on the street lighting plan endorsed by council to be considered when Ald. Parson's notice of motion came up for review.

Where Is Halali?

Martin Bormann Had Secret Rendezvous

By George Boultwood

HAMBURG, Germany, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Martin Bormann, Hitler's missing deputy, told Nazi high-ups in the last days of the war in Berlin to rendezvous with him at a place he referred to by the code name "Halali," Hartman Lauterbacher, former Gauleiter of Southern Hannover, told British officers during interrogation.

THIS SLENDER clue to the intentions and possible fate of Bormann, whose whereabouts have been a mystery since the end of the war, was disclosed by British officers after it was suggested in a Nuernberg trial that Lauterbacher knew where Bormann had gone.

During his trial Otto Ohlendorf, former Gestapo chief, said he believed Bormann was in Russian hands by choice and suggested investigation of a telephone call made by Bormann from Hitler's bunker in Berlin and overheard by Lauterbacher.

Lauterbacher, himself awaiting trial as a member of a criminal organization, said it was true that he had seen Bormann in the party chancellery in Berlin on April 11, 1945. He said he had come to Berlin for orders since most of his territory was overrun by the Americans.

BORMANN telephoned frequently on various outgoing lines and received numerous visitors during the time Lauterbacher was with him.

Bormann also told his visitors many times that "in a certain case" they would meet at "Halali"—the German term for the hunting call "Tallyho." However, Lauterbacher said that he had no idea of what Bormann might have meant.

He said that he had so many worries at the time that he had taken no notice of or given any significance to the incident.

Mass Migration

18 Countries to Find Homes For 300,000

By John Dauphinee

LONDON, Nov. 25. —(CP)— Eighteen countries have agreed to accept more than 300,000 displaced persons and refugees left homeless by the war. Two-thirds of them are scheduled to be moved from international refugee organization camps by mid-1948.

PERHAPS 1,000,000 more—mostly Nazi slave laborers who refuse to return to their homelands—must be dealt with before Europe's post-war transfer of populations is complete.

An uncounted thousands of other Europeans are waiting impatiently for a chance to emigrate, without government help, to new homes in the new world.

Since the war ended in 1945, "millions of persons" classed as displaced persons have returned to their homelands in what may well be the greatest mass migration in European history, said a report to IRO's Geneva conference last month.

Now the prospect of further large-scale repatriation is described as slight. IRO's main job is to find nations willing to accept a total of 670,000 men, women and children it supports with international funds in refugee camps and several hundred thousand more who are managing to live without help, mostly in Germany and Austria.

BECAUSE OF SHIPPING difficulties and political delays, relatively few displaced persons have been resettled since the war ended. But IRO directors have said they hope to move more than 250,000 to new homes and overseas by next July 1.

Considerably more than that may be moved if the United States congress passes quickly a bill which would admit 400,000 displaced persons over four years. United Nations Palestine proposals, still under discussion, call for admission of 125,000 Jews into the Holy Land within two years.

Neither of these programs is included in IRO calculations, based on formal agreements with 18 nations.

HEADING THE LIST in numbers to be accepted is the United Kingdom which has asked for 80,000.

France and Belgium have agreed to take 75,000 each—Belgium perhaps a few more. The Netherlands wants 10,500. North Africa's French colonies of Tunis and Morocco will take 3,000 each, and Sweden and Switzerland have agreed to accept a few hundred.

Canada has agreed to accept more DPS than any overseas country. Canada House said the target figure has been set at 20,000—not including more than 21,000 relatives of Europeans already in the Dominion, some of them probably refugees.

IRO headquarters in Geneva said there is "every indication" 25,000 refugees will be moved to Canada before next June.

ARGENTINA HAS offered to grant visas for 6,000 displaced persons, mostly Russians and Yugoslavs now in Germany, Austria and Italy. Bolivia, Colombia and Ecuador will take 7,300 together, Brazil 5,000, Chile 6,000, Peru 5,000 and Venezuela 15,000.

Australia has advised IRO it will take 4,000 this year and about 1,000 monthly thereafter. South Africa is expected to accept a small number after formal arrangements are completed. New Zealand, while expressing no desire to take DPS, has said it will admit some orphan children from European countries.

Carry Forward 1947 Assessment

City Council Monday night directed that no new assessment be made, and instructed the city solicitor to prepare the necessary by-law that the 1947 assessment be carried forward to 1948.

In a report to council suggesting Thomas Walker, city assessor, outlined the difficulties of carrying out a revaluation of all property that no new assessment be made in the city.

He said the main difficulty was in finding a staff able to carry out the revaluation, but expressed the hope that an early start on the project might be made so that the re-assessment could be completed by 1949.

Mr. Walker recommended that study be made of a rotary system of assessment introduced in Ontario which allowed municipalities to compile rolls under a rotary system ascertaining values of lands in one half of the municipality one year, and in the other half the next. He intimated such a system would be necessary here if re-assessment of Edmonton is to be undertaken and completed within a reasonable time.

He suggested also that consideration should be given in the present basis of assessing buildings and improvements.

Mr. Walker reminded council that he now is past the retirement age, and requested that consideration be given to the appointment of his successor.

The city assessor's suggestions were referred to the finance committee for consideration and report.

Plane Acts Up But Lands Safely

DETROIT, Nov. 25.—(AP)— A Northwest Airlines plane en route here from New York with 12 passengers, landed safely at Willow Run airport at 12:05 a.m. (EST) today after its pilot had radioed that one of his four engines was acting up and that there was some danger of fire.

The civil aeronautics authority at New York said its first report from the pilot indicated the alert was afire, but later he reported it was only giving off an unusual amount of smoke.

Officials said none of the 12 passengers knew of the trouble until the plane had landed.

Auto Accidents Take Heavy Toll

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Two persons were killed and 15 reported injured yesterday in three south shore automobile accidents when highways became treacherous after a heavy, wet snowfall that blanketed roads throughout the Montreal area. All accidents occurred within a 35-mile radius of Montreal.

The two killed lost their lives in a collision between a taxi and a truck a mile and a half from LaPrairie. A priest, Msgr. Armand Chausse, 62-year-old superior of St. John seminary at St. Johns, Que., was decapitated, while taxi driver Gerard Bomerieau, 25, died several hours later in hospital.

Earlier reports said another priest, Father Leopold Allard, who was with Msgr. Chausse, had also been killed, but provincial police said later he was in critical condition in a St. Johns hospital.

DOROTHY DIX says:

Smart Ones Know How to Keep Mates

Doctor Popenoe, who is Director of the American Institute of Family Relations and the world's greatest authority on marriage, advises girls to do their husband-hunting early.

"The girls who act promptly don't have to be afraid of not getting their man," he says, "but delay is dangerous." Then he adds this further tip: "If you want a happy marriage, don't get a college education. The divorce rate of college women graduates is four times as high as that of college men graduates, and much higher than their less-educated sisters."

There are strange words of advice to give to the bobby-soxers, and whether the learned Doctor is providing them with a code of action or merely talking through his hat, is not clear. However, since marriage is one of the things that has a hundred exceptions for every rule. It offers food for argument.

Of course, everyone will agree that if a girl is bent on matrimony she has a far better chance of getting a husband when she is 17 than she does when she is 27. The cards are running all in her favor then. She is not only at the heyday of her good looks, but she has that peculiar appeal that all young animals have. You can't see her without wanting to pet her any more than you can a kitten. Also, she is at the time of her life when she is just simply sizzling over with romance and when she can think herself in love with any lad who comes whistling down the street.

In her chase for a husband she has the still further advantage of pursuing game that has never been hunted before and that is ignorant of the traps that have been set for it. Capturing a boy husband is as easy as picking up a tame rabbit.

But while getting a husband is a trick that any girl baby with golden curls can do, keeping one existing out of her hand isn't such a cinch. That is a woman's job and not a childs. That calls for sophisticated action, for diplomacy, for self-control, for knowing how to cook, for qualities that take a woman half a life time and sometimes three divorces, to learn. Lacking these traits is what makes so many teen-age wives take the children and go back to mother.

As for the college education being a bar to happy marriage, that is as may be. It doesn't follow as a necessary. Undoubtedly men are more attracted by the outside of a girl's head than they are by what is inside of it, and the wheels-heads have a far better chance at the altar than the blue stockings. But once the educated woman has her man she has him for keeps.

For the really smart woman never lets any man, whether she is married to him or not, find out just how smart she is. She doesn't wear the breeches in public. She doesn't proclaim that she is the head of the house. She doesn't correct her husband's grammar or pronunciation. She doesn't say MY house, MY car, MY children.

No, the cleverer a woman is and the more she knows, the better wife she makes because she uses her brains and her energy and her initiative to build up her marriage and make a success of it. It is the stupid, silly women who quarrel and fight over everything and wreck their marriages.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

I know there are some men who really like window shopping but I have never known one. I saw several of these couples while I was sitting in a parked car on a downtown street the other day. It is always the same; the woman urging her husband on with smiles and gay little pushes while he tries to look like the superior and tolerant male but feels silly and is bored to death.

It reminded me of a funny experience I had. I myself am not a habitual window shopper. I do not like to shop. When I need something I go into the store and buy it, with nary a look at the window. However, one evening when my husband and I were on our way to the theatre, a dress in the window did catch my eye. I went through the regular routine and we found ourselves gazing into the shop window.

My husband, expecting to tease me by embarrassing me, said in a loud voice, "Not a thing—not another rag. You have me in the poor house now."

I replied in an even louder voice, "Well, if you won't get it for me, I will." It was humorous to watch the slowing pace of passers-by as they listened to the little drama we were creating.

My husband then shouted, "That doddering old Romeo!"

By this time one or two people had stopped in their tracks, so we hurried on to the theatre, laughing at ourselves. That's as far as I got with marital window shopping.

It seems to me that men like the lovely finished product but wish to be spared the cold cream, the pin curls, the exercises or the search for a suitable dress. It adds a thrilling variety if you appear at your best the first time your husband sees a new outfit. You can tell what a dress looks like when it is on a hangar, anyway.

All of these small thoughtfulnesses add up to a big total in keeping romance alive. The belief that sest for life and a deep inner happiness prolong life and youthfulness is being strengthened constantly. It gives a woman freshness, bloom, beauty and self-assurance to feel that she is emotionally safe.

If you wish to have my leaflet, No. 63 "Keeping Romance Alive," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

See Delay Food Production Goals

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—Until the British food delegation headed by Sir Percival Leiching arrives in Ottawa this week, it will be impossible for the department of agriculture's annual food production conference next week to formulate a definite program, according to top-level government officials. This annual conference, based on production and sales of past years, sets crop and livestock production targets for the next year, as a guide to Canadian farm and livestock producers.

But since the adoption of the the Canadian officials learn exactly how much of Canada's bacon, pork, beef, poultry, butter, eggs, etc., Britain plans to take in 1948, it is impossible to set a production program.

Neither will it be possible to determine just what to do concerning the present bans on beef, live cattle, feed wheat, barley, oats and other feed grains and some forty other Canadian products prohibited from export to the United States.

If the British propose materially to reduce their imports of beef, pork, bacon, poultry, eggs, and butter, for example, the Canadian ban on exports of these products to the United States may be materially modified in order to sustain the market to Canadian producers. If the British austerity program does not mean any major reductions in these items, then the situation may largely remain as it is.

THINGS WE SEE WITH EYES SHUT

Everyone knows that we frequently see bright colors or "stars" when we close our eyes. The nerves of sight always produce sight, whatever excites them. The source of excitement usually is light, but it may be many other things.

Pressure will also stimulate the nerves of sight, and that is why we seem to see stars when we get a blow on the eye. When we shut out eyes tightly, we cause some pressure on the eyeball, and so sensations of light are produced. Also, there are various things in the eye which are lit up by light and reflect it for a short time even after the eye is shut. The retina (the curtain at the back of the eye) sees these things.

With our eyes shut, we often have "after-images" of things we have just seen with them. Or we sometimes have the sensation of seeing before the eyes. This may be due to various causes but is apt to occur when the eyes are tired or nervous.

The retina has a way of seeing things more or less faintly after the eyes are shut, and these images are called after-images. Sometimes they are bright, as the thing itself was; sometimes they are seen as dark images corresponding to the bright thing we have been looking at.

An after-image may be colored. In that case it will have the color which is the opposite of the color we saw. A blue will have an after-image of yellow, an object will give a green after-image.

We must remember, further, that the eyelids allow a certain amount of light to pass through them, so that we still see a little when we close our eyes. In people who are not well, the brain may give the sensation of light in closed eyes, apart from any light and apart from any fading after-images.

The spots that sometimes come before the eyes are of two distinct kinds. One kind is permanent, and the spots are always in the same place. They are due to something that should not be in the eye—most commonly a speck of the cornea, the front part of the eye, which has been damaged in some way. Such thickened places in the cornea throw shadows on the retina, and so are seen as spots.

Other spots seem to be in different places at different times. Usually we do not notice them at all. They are the shadows thrown on the retina by white blood cells moving through the fluids inside the eye. As these cells move about the shadows they throw are not seen always in the same place. White cells are usually travelling about in the eye, but usually we do not notice them.

When we have been awake all night, or have become tired from staying up too late, we get spots before our eyes because our nerves have been made too sensitive, and they notice the shadows of the cells, which a healthy eye does not notice. It is one of the most important facts about living matter, especially nerves, that when they are weak they get too sensitive or irritable.

These moving spots have an amusing name—muscae volitantes, flying flies. Sometimes the spots are due to imperfections in the eye, and should be treated by an oculist.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Today's hand comes from that outstanding Life Master, Harry J. Fishbein of the Hasfair Bridge Club in New York. Fishbein is always patient with the novice and answers questions willingly.

When West goes down, declarer can see that he has a possible spade loser, a certain heart and diamond loser, and two club losers—probably five losers which he wants to reduce to three.

Tournament—E-W vul.

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♥	Double	4 ♥
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♥ K 25

After winning the opening heart lead, West shifts to the queen of clubs.

The opening lead has marked West with the ace of hearts, and he undoubtedly has some other strength for his vulnerable bid. In all likelihood he has the king of diamonds.

Fishbein points out that nothing is to be gained by winning the first club trick. Let West hold it, and when he continues with a club, declarer wins this in dummy with the ace and leads a spade. East plays the queen and South wins.

Now he wants to try to establish the diamond suit. Figuring West for the king of diamonds and possibly the queen also, declarer leads the ten of diamonds. When West plays the queen, South lets him hold the trick, hoping that he originally had only two clubs.

The only thing West can do safely now is to lead the other diamond, and when West plays the six-spot, the finesse of the jack is taken. Then the king of spades and ace of diamonds are cashed, and the losing clubs are thrown on dummy's diamonds. Thus five losers are reduced to three.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The letters which come to this column are its greatest inspiration. They tell me what mothers want to know, as well as whether the advice is hitting the mark.

Some letters offer advice, too, and if it is good I like to print it. The experiences of mothers often furnish them with new ways of helping other mothers in a like situation.

Mrs. J. M. writes, "I solved the problem of thumb-sucking quite easily when my children were old enough to chew gum without swallowing it. I taught them how to chew and it worked like a charm. I know some people do not like to let their children chew gum, but it broke mine of this other habit, and it is easy enough not to overdo the gum-chewing habit."

This is a transfer of one habit to another, but as there is nothing harmful in a piece of gum, it would seem to have been good strategy.

Mrs. E. S. writes, "The spanking mother simply wins the child's hatred. None of us is perfect and how can we expect that a child shall be. It takes love and patience to bring up children.

"My mother died when I was 3 years old. My father believed that you whip more devils INTO a child than you whip out. I adored him. I have 8 children and they are now grown and married and fine citizens. We have always been pals as my neighbors and friends know. They never were brought up with punishment."

This bolsters my own conviction that it is love and management and not punishment, which make good children.

Mrs. M.J.C. writes, "I want to thank you for suggesting that, temporarily, I leave milk out of my child's diet to see if it had any relation to the life-long chronic constipation. It has worked beautifully. He now has two movements a day without difficulty. I did not know that when a child is allergic to milk that chronic constipation could be one of the results."

Thank you for telling me. I hope now that you will be content to substitute some other proteins to the diet to take the place of milk. Fruit juices are not substitutes for milk. Meat, eggs— if he isn't allergic to these, too—nutbutters, cheese, gelatine, whole grain cereals, beans, peas, these are complete as well as incomplete proteins.

Try goat's milk, or one of the processed milks, adding some milk gradually until you reach the point where constipation results, then keep below that amount.

Anna Winnifred Irwin Bride Of Douglas John Carson

Candles and multi-colored chrysanthemums decorated First Baptist Church Saturday at 5:30 p.m. when Miss Anna Winnifred Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Irwin, of Edmonton, became the bride of Douglas John Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Carson, of Kamloops, B.C. The Rev. Daniel Young performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white taffeta, the dress featuring a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. A seed pearl cap gathered her finger-tip veil to her head. She wore long white nylon gloves and her only jewelry was a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Francis Barchard, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore a gold moire gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. Her long mittens matched the dress. The flowers on her lace cap matched her bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Harlod Garrish of Kamloops was best man and ushers were W. Wylie and Stanley Rutledge. Mrs. F. Barber Smith played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register, Miss Ada Toffey sang All Joy Be Thine.

At a reception at the Corona Hotel after the ceremony, Mrs. Irwin received the guests wearing a two piece afternoon dress in a cinnamon color. With it she wore a brown hat with beige ostrich plume and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Autumn flowers decorated the bride's table which was centred with a three-tier cake. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Young.

The couple left later for New Westminster where they will make their home, the bride travelling in a red suit with a winter white hat and black accessories and a muskrat topcoat.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Carson and Harold Garrish of Kamloops. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of British Columbia.

City Girl November Bride

The Russian Greek Orthodox Church was the scene of a wedding Saturday at 4 p.m., when Miss Edith Woroschuk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Andre, of Edmonton, became the bride of Ernest Cherniawsky, son of Mrs. M. Cherniawsky of Vegreville. The Rev. John Wasil performed the double-ring ceremony, for which the church was decorated with autumn flowers and candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt. The low round neckline was edged with delicate lace, and the long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The floor-length embroidered veil was caught to her head by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and carnations. Her only jewelry was a cameo pendant, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. James Paron, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and wore a gown of turquoise satin styled similiarly to the bride's. Bridesmaid, Miss Edith Demkiw, wore a pink taffeta dress styled with a full gathered skirt. Both attendants carried bouquets of white carnations and chrysanthemums.

James Paron was best man and Walter Cherniawsky was an usher.

At a reception held later, the bride's table was centred with a three-tier cake flanked by tapers and bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Receiving the guests, Mrs. Andre wore a gray crepe afternoon dress with fuschia trim, and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Cherniawsky wore navy blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Gerald Cherrin proposed the toast to the bride.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to Calgary, the bride travelling in a green dressmaker suit with gold and brown accessories and a gardenia corsage. They will live in Calgary.

City Architects Back From European Tour

Miss Jean Wallbridge and Miss Mary Louise Imrie, two city architects who have just returned from a European tour during which they studied the architectural planning, reconstruction and rehabilitation which is taking place in the war-torn areas. The tour, sponsored by World Study Tours, took them to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Switzerland and England. Two City Architects Return From England And Continent

Canadians have much to learn from European architecture, said Miss Jean Wallbridge and Miss Mary Louise Imrie, who have just returned from a tour of the continent, in an interview today. Miss Wallbridge and Miss Imrie, both Edmonton architects, travelled to Europe on a tour sponsored by World Study Tours to survey the planning, reconstruction and re-habilitation of war-devastated European cities.

The officially-conducted tour lasted six weeks and took them to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Belgium and England, but this was only a taste that in no way quenched their thirst for knowledge, and so they spent considerable time of their own studying the people and lands.

There were few "red-tape" difficulties for all arrangements were made by the sponsors of the tour. Language problems were eased by competent interpreters and they were well received wherever they went. Although they appreciated the entertainments that were held for them, they felt that they weren't seeing the life of the countries as the ordinary people were living.

For these two girls there were no accomodation difficulties. Food was adequate and often sumptuous when they were being entertained. All went smoothly and they completely missed any "dangerous living" that they might have anticipated.

This year saw the beginning of reconstruction in Europe. In five years, if everything goes well, Europe will have a "new face." The outstanding factor in the European field of architecture is the basic idea of "overall" planning. Plans are made for a whole country — not just a single unit as on this continent. Miss Imrie said that Canada had not yet reached the stage were people realize the importance of planning in country-wide units but she feels confident that that time will come. With overall planning there is a utilization of space, conservation of materials and more attention to human progress than is possible in a city by city construction plan.

Both girls seemed to be most favorably impressed with Poland and said that they would like to return to Poland to work. This little country is badly war-torn and here they saw the greatest devastation but there is active reconstruction, they said. Rubble is being gradually cleared and utilities which were bombed completely out of commission are once again in working order. But it was the people of Poland that were particularly impressive, their spirit and enthusiasm, sense of humor in the face of supreme difficulties, their broad, cheerful outlook for the future of their country. Poland is building with both eyes to the future and any resentment of existing conditions is buried under their honest resolve to rehabilitate their people.

In Denmark they were awed by the beautiful city of Copenhagen with its picturesque skyline of spires and warmed by the warmth and friendliness of the people. These people, said Miss Wallbridge, have a tremendous national pride in their beautiful, interesting little country.

Their architecture is amazingly modern with clean, uncluttered lines and a look of durability that Canadian architects would do well to note.

Another highlight in their tour was their visit to the beautiful city of Prague in Czechoslovakia. They found the Czechoslovakian people surprisingly free-thinking, very modern in outlook and generally industrious and enthusiastic in their hopes and plans for the future. With the aid of an interpreter, the girls visited farmhouses and the quaint little villages to meet the "little" people of the country.

Both Poland and Czechoslovakia have excellent, effective housing projects and some temporary accomodations have been made to alleviate immediate requirements, but as a whole, the outlook of these countries is long-range.

Sweden and Switzerland have the most modern architecture. Zurich, Switzerland impressed them as the most beautiful, modern city and both girls would like to return for a leisurely holiday some day.

Holland and Belgium are both advancing rapidly in reconstruction with the people working steadfastly to put a new face on their homelands. Brussels is a particularly gay city.

In England the girls had adequate time to study conditions while they waited for plane reservations. London, though badly devastated in spots is rapidly becoming whole. Of course, now all construction activity has ceased in view of the bitter economic crisis but the people have great plans for the future. Both Miss Wallbridge and Miss Imrie felt that the bombed-out cities have a better chance for the future because many undesirable sectors were wiped out in the bombing.

Now, home in Edmonton again, they say that they wouldn't have missed this trip for "worlds" and are returning with fresh ideas and enthusiasms for their work in the architectural field.

Miss Theophilia Skwarok returned to Edmonton Saturday from a holiday in Vancouver. Her marriage to Joseph Moroz of Smoky Lake will take place Sunday at 3 p.m. at St. Josaphat's Church.

Women of the Ardrossan community assisted Mrs. Mackay with arrangements.

Conditions Better But Food Needed

VIENNA. (Reuters) — The two years of quadripartite occupation of Vienna, since British, French and United States troops joined Russian liberators in the city in July, 1945, have brought improvements in the life of the ordinary citizen.

But the basic improvement which Viennese are always hungry for food—still seems a long way off.

When the western Allies marched in, three months after the end of the fighting, Vienna presented a miserable sight. Main streets were still blocked with rubble from bombed houses, scarcely a single shop was open, a few trams ran timidly on provisionally repaired lines, and almost no one ventured out of his house after dark.

At least superficially, Vienna looks normal. Trams are still badly overcrowded, but nearly all the pre-war lines are back in service.

Street Lighting

Most shops are open and one can buy useful things in them — though food, clothing and shoes are still conspicuous by their absence. Street lighting has long been restored, and mysterious night life of the ordinary citizen.

But the basic improvement which Viennese are always hungry for food—still seems a long way off.

Above all, security has improved out of all proportion. Murders and armed attacks are still not so rare as they might be and mysterious kidnappings still take place; but a kidnapping or murder is today the occasion for newspaper headlines, whereas when the Allies first drove into the city, acts of violence were so frequent that newspapers scarcely mentioned them.

Mainly responsible for the increased security is the reorganization and rebuilding of the Vienna police force, once one of the best in the world.

Trained at police schools set up by British initiative, police managed to break up and arrest members of many of the bands which roamed the city in the first post-war months.

Patrol Streets

Most streets are now properly patrolled at night, though police still complain that they are too lightly armed to deal with desperadoes who are liable to shoot on sight.

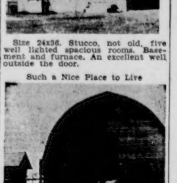
In spite of these improvements—and they are great improvements—the average Viennese today is probably in poorer spirits than he was when British troops moved in two years ago. Then, he though that real peace and independence was just around the corner.

Today, with negotiations for the Austrian state treaty dragging along and coming no nearer to a conclusion; with the country still divided into four by demarcation lines; with nominal rations at 1,500 calories; with a note issue seven times as great as pre-war and no backing for the currency; and with winter looming ahead with no reserves of food in the country, there is no wonder that he sees the future darkly.

Two years ago things were getting better every week, as the water came back to the taps and trams returned to the streets. Now, things may not be getting worse; but the general feeling is one of stagnation and hopelessness.

Size 24x36, Stucco, not old, five well lighted spacious rooms. Basement and furnace. An excellent well outside the city limits.

Such a Nice Place to Live



And just look at this Barn, recently built. It cost lots of money. So did the other buildings—granaries, hog house, chicken house and other buildings.

An Ideal Mixed Farm

All fenced and cross fenced. Fine well at the barn. A most excellent running stream the whole year. It's a piano farm. A very beautiful view of lovely trees shelters the buildings, making a picturesque setting.

Owner Gives Lived There

With the exception of this year. It was rented as he had to quit farming. The price is now $7,500; the improvements are alone worth more. He wants cash. It could be financed with a reasonable loan. The district is well settled with a fine class of mixed nationalities.

With negged prices for grain and the demand for stock, farming is now a profitable business.

Shown to you anytime, if not already sold.

STRONG POWDER

A suburban chemist had been advertising his patent insect powder far and wide. One day a man dashed into the shop and said excitedly:

"Give me another half a pound of your powder, quick please."

"Oh," remarked the chemist, as he proceeded to execute the order, "I'm glad you like the powder. Good, isn't it?"

"Yes," replied the customer, "I have one cockroach very ill; if I don't get another half a pound I think he'll die."

Juvenile delinquents are now taught carpentery in the African Gold Coast.

What You Should Know about TRAVEL RATIONING

Why?

Canada's supply of U.S. dollars will no longer stretch far enough to permit all the purchases of goods and services or all the travel in the United States that has taken place in the past. It is, therefore, necessary to reduce our expenditures of U.S. dollars in many different ways. As one of these steps, the Government has decided that the use of U.S. dollars for pleasure travel spending must be reduced. To ensure this reduction in a way that is fair to all, an annual "travel ration" has been established. As in the past—a Form H permit is required by anyone taking out of Canada more than $10 U.S. or more than a total of $25 in Canadian and foreign currencies.

Pleasure Travel

Regulations now provide that the maximum amount of U.S. dollars which any Canadian resident may obtain for pleasure travel purposes is $150 per year. In the case of children of eleven years and under, the amount is $100. There is no restriction on the number of trips as long as this annual allotment is not exceeded. Any U.S. dollars obtained for one trip and not used on that trip must be brought back to Canada and exchanged for Canadian dollars at a bank immediately on return. No credit for these funds can be allowed against the annual ration for subsequent trips.

Business Travel

Applications for U.S. dollars for business travel must include a certification by the employer that the travel is required in his business interests. Reasonable amounts of U.S. dollars may be obtained for this purpose.

Travel for Health or Education

Applications for U.S. dollars for travel for health or educational reasons are to be made on special forms available at chartered banks. These applications will be forwarded by banks to the Foreign Exchange Control Board for consideration. Applications for health travel must be accompanied by a medical report on forms which can also be obtained at chartered banks. The Department of National Health and Welfare will act as advisor to the Board in reviewing these medical reports.

Border Travel

A Canadian resident wishing to make visits on which he will not be taking out of Canada more than a total of $25 of which not more than $10 is in U.S. dollars, may purchase from his bank for this purpose up to a total of $10 in any calendar month. This is in addition to the annual travel ration.

Personal Purchases of U.S. Goods

A Canadian tourist should remember that the new restrictions applying to imports from the United States govern his personal purchases there. He may not bring back any merchandise which has now been prohibited or which may now only be imported on a quota basis. The list of goods covered by the new import restrictions is an extensive one. Tourists contemplating any particular purchase in the United States would be wise, before leaving the country, to ask Canadian Customs Officials if this purchase will be admitted.

Travel Requiring Sterling Funds

Applications for sterling funds for travel in sterling area countries are normally approved for any reasonable amounts.

Points for Parents

Mother: "I'm not going to read aloud to you any more, you're old enough to read to yourself now."

Mother: "I'll read a chapter aloud and then you read to me while I darn some socks, will you?"

Reading aloud is more than a substitute for reading to one's self. It is an activity which helps build and affectionate parent-child relationship.
